RUSSIANS' SPACE GRIP TIGHTENED

Atlas Rocket Fizzles ...In Moon Try

Cape Canaveral, Fla. (AP)—The failure of a U.S. moon rocket early Thursday probably means that Russia will hold its long lead in space exploration for at least another year.

This was the dominant thought here as scientists sought the reason for the demise of an Atlas-Able rocket which they had counted on to put the first satellite into orbit about the moon. They believe that perhaps more than one thing went wrong.

The United States does not have a backup vehicle for this shot. And it will be next fall before a rocket is ready which can match the present Russian Luniks.

The Atlas-Able, most powerful rocket ever developed by this country, blasted off at 2:32 a.m. (EST) Thursday and almost immediately there was a hint of trouble. About 30 seconds after launch, a small chunk of material that seemed to be on fire slipped from the rocket and fluttered slowly like a leaf into the Atlantic several miles offshores.

Await Big Flash

However, the Atlas' first stage continued to perform perfectly and burned out on schedule after 4½ minutes. Observers then looked for a bright flash that would signify second stage ignition.

There was no flash, nad the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) announced later that the stage apparently did not fire.

At first, the key to the trouble appeared to be the hunk that fell from the 98-foot rocket.

But officials theorized Thursday that the falling material had nothing to do with the second stage. They believe it was a part of a fibreglass protective cover for the third stage and 372-pound payload. The fairing was to split in two and blow away once the rocket was outside the earth's heavy atmosphere.

Official Comments

Said one official:

"The slowness with which the piece fell and the fact that it appeared to be on fire indicates the fairing split prematurely. The flaming affect probably was the reflection of the rocket's exhaust flame in the transparent fibreglass.

He said NASA should be able to pinpoint the trouble after careful study of movies taken of the launch from several angles.

Technicians also studied telemetry in an effort to learn why the second stage failed to ignite. This malfunction sent the Atlas-Able plunging into the Atlantic several hundred miles away.

The doomed payload carried a scanning device to take and transmit pictures of the lunar surface, including the farside which Russia's Lunik III captured on film for the first time. There also were instruments to study the moon's environment.

Flemming Menu Boasts Berries

Washington (AP)—Secretary of Welfare Arthur S. Flemming had a traditional Thanksgiving dinner including turkey and cranberries Thursday.

Mrs. Flemming said the cranberries she served in a gelatine salad were government-approved — meaning that they had been tested and found free of any traces of a weed killer called aminotriazole.

It Looked Good And It Tasted Good

This very American 23-pound turkey not only looked good in preview but tasted good after several hours in the oven. Visitors From Afar Share Holiday

By Dean Terrill
Southeast Nebraska Bureau

Beatrice—A bit of America's plenty is being shared here over the Thanksgiving week end with a couple dozen foreign students from the University of Nebraska.

At least 16 countries are represented by the guests in Beatrice homes, according to Dr. Walter Jewett, chairman of the Rotary Club's International Service committee, sponsor of the first-time project.

For many of the visitors, it was their first American Thanksgiving — although some have similar observances in their own countries. At the home of Jim Meyers Jr., for example, a visitor from India related how a spring festival corresponds to our holiday.

"You have good crops and thank the Lord for them. We do the same," said Dave Chopra, a graduate student working for his Ph. D. in physics.

The crops are similar—mostly wheat and corn—but the festival foods differ greatly from those in this country. Chopra and his wife, Omi, said sweets are the holiday specialty in India.

"There is not much meat on our menu like your turkey, though," said the student. "We are mostly vegetarians."

Like the other visitors, the Indian guests were shown a typical mid-western Thanksgiving by their hosts. All the students were driven from Lincoln Wednesday evening and will remain in Beatrice homes until Sunday.

Chopra is looking forward to one experience even newer to him than Nebraska turkey—his first pheasant hunting.

Filings For Delegate Posts Increase Since Petitions No Longer Required

By Betty Person

The change in Nebraska election laws which provided that delegates to national political conventions must file for nomination directly rather than by petition, apparently has created more general interest in conventions, a check with the Secretary of State's office would indicate.

By Thanksgiving Day 1959, a total of 19 persons had filed either as delegates or alternates to next year's big political hoe-downs in the Democratic and Republican camps.

In comparison, only two persons had filed in all of 1955 prior to the 1956 convention, and none filed in 1951 prior to the 1952 convention.

500-2,000 Signers

Prior to the 1957 Legislature, delegates and alternates were required to have nominating petitions signed by at least 500 electors of their political party in each district they were to represent. This meant delegates and alternates at large had to have not less than 2,000 signatures.

An opinion from the Attorney General's office prior to the 1952 election held, however, that all delegates and alternates to one political convention could file on one petition, and that was the general practice in the 1952 and 1956 elections.

For example, 63 Republicans filed by petition as delegates or alternates on April 4, 1956, just prior to the filing deadline, and 44 Democrats filed on April 5.

The big flood of petition filings before the 1952 conventions came in January, just a bit more ahead of the earlier deadline that year.

Changed In 1957

The law was changed in 1957 so that any person could be nominated as a delegate to the convention of the party of his choice if he paid a $25 filing fee. The fee requirement of alternates was set at $15.

Opposition to this change was voiced at the time by several leaders in both parties who contended that party matters should be left in the hands of the party—and that such control was more easily obtained by the petition method.

Another argument against it was the fear that some persons would file as delegates as a means of obtaining only publicity.

Some answered this, however, that a person so-inclined could obtain much more publicity for less money by paying a $10 filing fee as a candidate for governor.

'More Interest'

Deputy Secretary of State Roland Luedtke said Thursday that judging from the inquiries coming to that office thus far, "more general interest is shown in delegates this year than heretofore."

The new method of filing is "creating continued interest in conventions and candidates, rather than having it all at one time when the petitions were circulated," he said.

Acknowledging the disinterest for this method which has been expressed in some quarters, Luedtke said the "only alternative is the convention system."

This would mean that each party would hold a state convention of party members who would select their delegates to the national convention.

Load Lightened

One thing is certain, the new system has taken a load from the Secretary of State's office which previously had to verify the signatures on the petitions to be certain that sufficient qualified electors had been obtained.

FILINGS TO DATE:

Third District delegates: R. C. Johnson of Mead, and Jack Lough of Albion.
Fourth District alternates: Connie Nye Roeser of Ogallala.

Roads Turn Icy In North

Light snow and freezing rain laid an icy sheet over highways in the Norfolk and Valentine areas Thanksgiving day, making travel hazardous.

The Madison County Sheriff's office said roads west and north of Norfolk were becoming slippery and dangerous.

The State Safety Patrol said roads were also slick in the Columbus area as light snow was falling.

Partly cloudy skies and cool weather are predicted Friday for Nebraska.

The only snow in sight appears to be headed for north central Nebraska, where some light snow flurries are expected sometime during the day.

Holiday highs, accompanied by a brisk November breeze, ranged mostly in the middle 30s, with North Platte and Burwell tipping the thermometer scale at 38. Burwell also had the state low of 13.

Lincoln, sunny Thanksgiving day, reached a high of 33 after a morning low of 21.

Valentine, Ainsworth, Grand Island and Chadron all reported light snow during the holiday.

'Lost Tribe' Pulls Into Addis Ababa

Addis Ababa, Ethiopia (AP)—Smelling of the bush, covered with red dust and with sores on their hands, Wally Byam's "lost tribe" of 90 Americans groaned into Addis Ababa Thursday—20 days after leaving Nairobi, Kenya.

Emperor Haile Selassie put the Imperial Race Track at their disposal as a parking lot for their 35 trucks and trailers. Hundreds of curious Ethiopians gathered to peep through the fence at the "American invasion."

Byam, of Los Angeles, is leading a safari 11,000 miles from Capetown to the Mediterranean through darkest Africa.

Most of the caravan's members—from 24 states—are elderly people with itchy feet. But 21 are from 6 to 19 years old, and there are more women than men.

The caravan, Wally explained, had to build its own roads in many parts of southern Ethiopia.

"We are thinking of presenting a bill to the Ethiopian government for improving the roads," quipped one sore-handed adventurer.

Broken axles and springs and burst tires slowed the caravan to as little as 7 miles a day.

The caravan has now covered 10,000 miles from Capetown.

The oldest member, Dr. Duncan D. Monroe of Sterling, Colo:, was under a trailer busy with a screwdriver and monkey wrench when reporters called to interview him.

The youngest is Susan Frosch, 6, making the trip with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Frosch of Hurlock, Md.

The adventurers are eager to push on to Cairo before Christmas. They expect to tackle the arid waste's of the Nubian desert, where a 5-man American-French expedition recently met disaster.

Byam has conducted many similar trips.

Kilauea Adds Color To Statehood Fete

Honolulu (AP)—Kilauea volcano gave the Hawaiian statehood celebration an unexpected boost Thursday, sending orange-crimson jets of lava 300 feet into the air.

The volcano came to life again as islanders started a 4-day holiday, combining Thanksgiving with a full-scale commemoration of statehood.

Kilauea erupted Nov. 14 and sent lava fountains skyward for a week. It lay dormant 4 days.

The flow spread a new glowing layer over a 300-foot-deep lake of lava created by the earlier eruption in Kilauea Iki crater.

No New Exit

Lava Thursday spewed forth from the same vent in the crater wall. The new fountain was maintaining a height of 200 feet with spurts as high as 300. A smaller fountain also was active.

Scientists, who had cautiously refused to proclaim the eruption dead during its 4 days of inactivity, were equally cautious Thursday about how long the new flow would continue.

Freedom Tunnel

Vienna, Austria (AP)—There are tunnels under the electric barbed wire erected by communist Czechoslovakia along its frontier with the west, a Czech border soldier reported Thursday after escaping to Austria.

Armed Robber Hits Local Gas Station

Mustached Bandit Ties Attendant, Speeds Away With $200 Loot

A mustached 6-foot bandit driving a 1959 model black Ford robbed a Lincoln gas station at gunpoint late Thursday afternoon and escaped with about $200 in cash.

A mustached 6-foot bandit driving a 1959 model black Ford robbed a Lincoln gas station at gunpoint late Thursday afternoon and escaped with about $200 in cash.

Police said the bandit, armed with a .22-calibre rifle, bound the attendant with tape and locked him in a restroom after cleaning out the cash register.

The attendant at the 27th and R St. station, James Roberts, 23, of 3035 R, was bound and gagged while the man sped away. A customer, L. C. Jensen of 3534 R, untied Roberts and he called police.

Roberts said the man pulled up to the gas pumps north of the station, showed him a rifle and said, "This is a holdup."

'Wait 5'

"He tied me up and said I'd better wait for 5 minutes because he was going to use the phone and then check on me again before he left," Roberts related.

Roberts told police the man, described as about 37 years old and wearing a medium dark hip-length leather jacket and dark green wool trousers, told him "to wait at least 5 minutes before you try to get out of here."

Roberts said the bandit had receding brown hair and a "thin line" mustache.

The robbery occurred at about 4:45 p.m., police said.

The station is owned by Conrad Surmann of 3085 T.

Arms Curb Vital Step, Ike Writes

Washington (AP) — President Eisenhower says enormous risks are entailed if the search for a workable arms reduction and control agreement fails.

On the other hand, he said in a letter made public Thursday night, "Success in this quest will bring greater security to all countries and lift the threat of devastating nuclear conflict."

Eisenhower said also he intends to urge Congress anew to repeal a reservation restricting U.S. participation in the World Court. This reservation provides that this country itself has the right to decide whether a dispute lies essentially within domestic jurisdiction. Thus no case involving the United States can be taken to the World Court without this country's approval.

Writes To Demo

Eisenhower set forth these views in a letter, dated from Augusta, Ga., on Nov. 17 and addressed to Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn). The letter was made public by Humphrey, chairman of a Senate foreign relations subcommittee on disarmament.

Replying to a letter from Humphrey, Eisenhower said the U.S. has followed a policy of seeking international agreements on "manageable segments of the whole arms problem."

"The best and most carefully elaborated agreements are likely to carry with them some risks, at least theoretically, of evasion," the President wrote.

"But one must ponder, in reaching decisions on the very complex and difficult subject of arms control, the enormous risks entailed if reasonable steps are not taken to curb international competition in armaments and to move effectively in the direction of disarmament."

Folies Show Vegas Bound

Paris (UPI) — The world's most undressed show hit the road—by plane — Thursday night for Las Vegas, with 127 pieces of luggage containing very little.

"Les Girls" of the Folies Bergeres crowded into a Super-Constellation to put on —or take off—what impresario Tony Azzi called "the classiest nude show America will ever have seen" at the Tropicana Hotel in Las Vegas.

One of the girls was asked whether this was her first trip to the United States.

"No sir," replied Toni Reither, "this is my second. My first trip was when the stork brought me to Sunnyside, Long Island, where I happened to be born."

Loup Citian Dies As Truck Turns Over

Lincoln Star Special

Loup City — Ignac J. Smedra, 49, of near Loup City, was killed Wednesday afternoon when his pickup truck apparently struck a soft shoulder and turned over.

Sherman Co. Sheriff Earl Hancock said the accident occurred 3 miles south of Loup City on Highway 10. He said Mr. Smedra was apparently killed instantly.

Funeral services will be 10 a.m. Saturday at St. Josaphat's Catholic Church in Loup City.

Mr. Smedra was a farmer southeast of Loup City and had lived in that area all of his life.

He is survived by his wife and 2 sons.

Midcontinent Invaded By Snow, Cold

Mercury Sinks Low

. . . In Northland

By The Associated Press

Thanksgiving Day Snow whitened wide areas of the midcontinent and a surge of Arctic air capped the wintry setting.

A storm that dumped up to 6 inches of fresh snow in the eastern Rockies tapered off to flurries as it spread across parts of the Midwest during the day.

The storm in the Rockies left 3 dead and temperatures near the zero mark. Brisk northerly winds up to 50 mph caused blizzard conditions in some areas. Traffic was disrupted, airfields closed and electric power was knocked out.

Two men died in a plane crash during a blinding snow storm. The plane crashed in a field within 38 miles of the Denver Airport and was not discovered until Thursday. A third man was killed in a car crash on a snow-swept highway in Montana.

Battle Snow Storm

Two men were killed in a plane crash Wednesday night as they battled blinding snow on a flight from Calico Rock, Ark., to Denver. They were J. W. Hayes, 34, Calico Rock mill owner, and James L. Smith, 27, Denver. Also a casualty was a bird dog owned by Smith.

David Wegner, 62, a Bridger, Mont., rancher, was killed in a car crash on a snow-swept road in southern Montana Wednesday just before the official nationwide Thanksgiving traffic death count began.

The autumn snow cover on the ground ranged from over 10 inches in the upper Great Lakes region to 7 to 8 inches in North Dakota, 4 to 5 inches in Iowa and one to 3 inches in the lower Lakes area.

Wide Section

Snow was scattered from the Great Lakes into the middle Mississippi Valley and the central Appalachians.

The leading edge of a mass of Arctic air extended from the northern Rockies into the upper Mississippi Valley. Brisk northerly winds powered the cold southward and an overnight freeze was forecast from southwestern Texas into northern Mississippi.

The temperature slid to a low of —15 in Grand Forks, N.D., —11 at International Falls, Minn., and —3 in Rawlings, Wyo.

Early American Inhabitants Talked

Logan Creek Site Fills History 'Gap'

By Harriet Ruegg

The Logan Creek archaeological site "fills a gap" in judging the number of years ago Nebraska was inhabited, according to Marvin Kivett, director of the State Historical Society museum.

Kivett, who presented a report Thursday on the site to the 17th annual Great Plains Conference for Archaeology, said that it had previously been established that there were inhabitants in the Oakland, Neb., area nearly 6,600 years ago, but new findings hope to establish an even earlier civilization.

He said the area represents new complexes in eastern Nebraska and western Iowa which is a new undefined period in Midwestern life.

Houses At Lynch

Tom Witty of Lincoln, a graduate student in anthropology, told the archaeologists of his work at Lynch, where three houses of the earth-lodge type were uncovered.

Although previously thought to be very old, Witty said, they are now believed to be of the 1300-1450 period. The houses are thought to cover nearly a square mile, he said.

This year was the first time a house type had been established at the Lynch site, which was first discovered in 1936.

Crops To Be Discussed

Dr. Hugh Cutler of the Missouri Botanical Gardens in St. Louis Friday will discuss the domestic crops grown by prehistoric Indians.

The problems of road builders and archaeologists cooperating will be discussed on the Saturday program.

"It's a matter of mechanics" in working with the highway builders, Dr. Robert Stephenson of the Smithsonian Institution said.

He explained that the people working on roads must be informed on whom to contact to relate archaeological findings and, in turn, the archaeologists must examine the scene as soon as possible so as not to delay construction.

Yank College Prof Beaten To Death By Jap Students

Tokyo (UPI) — Dr. Charles Elliott Perry, a U.S. college professor here, was beaten to death Thursday night by a drunken Japanese student, police reported.

The professor died at his home in the university compound of a cerebral hemorrhage, caused by the beating.

Dr. Perry, 51, of Canton, N.Y., was professor of history at the Rikkyo (St. Paul) University here.

Police identified the assailant as Setsuji Morita, 20, of Bunka University.

Morita, with another Bunka University student, Teruo Yokoyama, 19, appeared at the professor's home around 7 p.m. Thursday and in a drunken revelry broke a window.

The professor came outside to investigate. Morita jumped on him and punched him in the face until he became unconscious.

A Japanese professor living nearby was attracted by the commotion and, seeing the professor on the ground, picked him up and carried him back inside where he soon died.

Iowan Helps Needy Enjoy Thanksgiving

Des Moines, Iowa (UPI)—Bill Sargent made the word "Thanksgiving" come true for hundreds of needy children and grownups Thursday and it was hard to tell who enjoyed it the most—Sargent or his friends.

As he has done for 13 years, Sargent opened his heart, and the doors of his drive-in restaurant, to provide free Thanksgiving dinners to those not so fortunate as himself.

Sargent and his wife, who operate a small drive-in not far from the downtown district, laid out a fine Thanksgiving fare for all comers.

There was plenty of turkey, mashed potatoes and the rest of the trimmings, topped off with ice cream for dessert.

Welfare Setup

Sargent stages his feast every year with tickets distributed through welfare agencies. But, with or without tickets, no one is ever turned away.

There were kids so hungry that they asked for seconds and even thirds — and got them.

TURKEY COOKER GETS 'SPUTNIK' FROM RUSSIAN

Omaha (AP)—Jerry Mitchell, Omaha hotel chef, got a medal Thanksgiving day.

Mitchell was borrowed from the hotel to prepare a turkey dinner at Offutt Air Force Base for a group of Russian agricultural experts touring the U.S.

When it was over Nikolai Anisimov pinned a Sputnik medal on Mitchell's jacket.

Mitchell speaks Russian and remarked "I make these guys feel at home even if I do give 'em turkey instead of borscht and caviar."

The Russian group offered one toast at their dinner. It was "to crops, ours and theirs."

Russia has no Thanksgiving day but does have an annual harvest celebration during which, the Russians said, "We thank ourselves, toiling people who did work properly."

Rossellini Plans Custody Battle

London (UPI) — Roberto Rossellini told newsmen Thursday he intends to fight Ingrid Bergman to the last ditch for custody of their 3 children.

"I am more of a mother than she is," he said. "I don't want to say anything against her, but I am from the south where we are warm. She is from the frigid north."

He said the court action to decide custody of the youngsters would take place in Rome on Dec. 4.

His children are Italian, he said, and should be brought up as Italians.

Lots Of Company

"I have a huge family for the children to join," he said. "She has nobody."

Rossellini is in London for two days to find a "typical Englishman" for his next film. Then he flies to Paris to see the children, who are at an Italian school there while temporarily in Miss Bergman's custody.

Asked if he would see his ex-wife there, he said, "If I have an invitation, why not?"

Menon Nixes Demands He Give Up Post

New Delhi (AP)—V. K. Krishna Menon Thursday rejected opposition demands that he resign as India's defense minister. Prime Minister Nehru backed him up.

The exchange came on the second day of debate in the lower house of parliament on the India-China border dispute.

Menon has come under sharp criticism since Red China's troops moved into several disputed areas in August. He has been accused in parliament of a close friendship with Communists and with treating the border trouble too lightly.

J. B. Kripalani, leader of the Praja (Peoples) Socialist Party, declared he felt Menon lacked the nation's confidence.

Nehru intervened at that point, saying the government is in office because it has the nation's confidence and that it is not up to the opposition to appoint ministers.

Matter Of Removal

An opposition deputy called out that the government's opponents do not want to appoint a minister but only want to convince Nehru he should remove one.

Menon told the lawmakers all necessary troop movements consistent with India's resources have been made to defend the country's border with Red China.

"There is no question of our running away from any defense required," he said.

Nehru is to close the debate Friday.

31 HUNGARIAN MINERS DEAD

Budapest (AP) — Thirty-one coal miners died in one of Hungary's worst pit disasters, the government announced.

They burned to death or choked on fumes as fire swept the Szuesci pit in northeast Hungary.

The government said 144 night shift workers were quickly brought up to safety by firefighters and rescue squads from nearby pits.

Deluxe Treatment

North Woodstock, Vt. (UPI) —Mrs. Eugenia M. Moody, 75, vice president of the Woodstock Humane Society, nursed back to health a hummingbird she found half frozen. She then paid $4 to send the bird to Miami as a special passenger aboard an airliner.

Poet Milton's Cottage Regaining Lost Charms

WORKMEN REPAIR CHALFONT COTTAGE

Chalfont, St. Giles, England (AP)—The cottage where the blind poet John Milton worked on "Paradise Lost" and "Paradise Regained" is being restored and repaired.

The Ministry of Works, in charge of the preservation of ancient monuments, made a grant this month for the work.

Milton's cottage dates probably from near the end of the 16th or the beginning of the 17th century. In appearance it differs little today from what it was in Milton's time.

Shakespeare's Age

The poet was born in 1608 and died in 1674.

He came to this little Buckinghamshire village, 20 miles northwest of London, in 1665 to escape the great plague of London. He asked his friend Thomas Ellwood, a local Quaker, to find him some place to live. Ellwood found him the cottage.

Milton wrote beneath a leafy elm in the garden of the cottage. The elm became a danger in its old age and was cut down before World War II.

When Milton completed the poem he read it to Ellwood and asked his opinion. The Quaker remarked: "Thou hast said much here of Paradise lost but what hast thou to say of Paradise found?"

Remark Remembered

Years later in London, milton showed Ellwood "Paradise Regained" and said: "This is owing to you, for you put it into my head at Chalfont."

Milton's cottage has been public property for about 70 years and is used as a Milton museum. It was taken over after an American tried to buy it in 1887, take it back to the United States and rebuild it there.

The cottage won't be quite the same when it is repaired and restored. For one thing, workmen who have removed bricks in order to treat the underlying timbers will put the bricks back correctly. The original builders put them in the wrong way up.

Thanksgiving 'Truth Of All Our Creeds'

... Says Rabbi Singer

"The Thanksgiving service represents the universal truths of all our creeds," Rabbi Jacob Singer of Chicago told the South Street Temple congregation Thursday.

Rabbi Singer, who served at the temple from 1912 to 1923, returned to his former pulpit to celebrate the 75th anniversary year of the congregation.

We have a "new conception of world responsibility" in the United Nations, where the prophecy of Isaiah is enscribed, he said.

"Striving for peace is becoming a universal task," he said. While the world is very much alarmed by atomic fallout, Rabbi Singer said, there is also the fallout of good.

Rabbi Singer served South Street Temple during the cornerstone laying and dedication ceremonies of the present building.

Smoking Is Indicted In Cancer

... By Surgeon General

Washington (AP)—The weight of evidence implicates smoking as the main cause of rising lung cancer, the government's chief health officer declared Thursday.

Burney

This statement by Surgeon General Leroy E. Burney was the furthest the Public Health Service ever has gone in linking smoking and lung cancer.

Dr. Burney said it in an article written for the Nov. 28 issue of The Journal of the American Medical Assn. The Health Service distributed copies of it—an action endorsed by Secretary of Welfare Arthur S. Flemming, Burney's superior.

Analyzing recent scientific research on the controversial question, Burney also pointed to air pollution—chiefly industrial smog and auto exhaust—as a probable, though lesser, cause of lung cancer which he said is becoming more prevalent as a killer in the United States and elsewhere.

"Weight Of Evidence"

Studies he cited reached conclusions on both sides of the issue, but Burney said "the weight of evidence at present implicates smoking as the principal etiological (causative) factor in the increased incidence of lung cancer."

In New York, Dr. C. C. Little, scientific director of the Tobacco Industry Research Committee, said most of the points in the article were not new.

He said they were "first advanced some years ago in statistical studies that admittedly are not supported by experimental evidence."

Burney's article put the finger on cigaret smoking as carrying the greatest risk. And he said filter tips developed so far do not do a good enough job of straining out tars he said are suspect as cancer-producers.

In another aspect of the problem, Burney said some researchers have shown a person who smokes cigarets runs almost 3 times the risk of dying from lung cancer as the pipe smoker and 7 times the cigar smoker.

130 Hi-Y Youths To Practice Lawmaking In Sessions Here

Some 130 boys will convene in Lincoln Friday to participate in a model legislature for members of Nebraska's Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y clubs.

The boys are delegates from 19 Hi-Y clubs in the 4-district Nebraska area, and will be accompanied by about 20 leaders.

One of the highlights of the session will be the election of a governor, to be chosen from candidates, one from each of the 4 Nebraska districts.

The candidates are: Don Copas of Lincoln Northeast, Lincoln district; Tom Wright of Alliance, Scottsbluff district; Jack Koepke of Hastings, Hastings district; and Lynn Olson of Omaha, Fremont district.

Each district also elects other officers and committee chairmen.

During the session, 19 bills, two of which will be introduced by the 15 Lincoln delegates, will be considered in legislative fashion.

Three lay delegates will give assistance at the two-day convention. They are: State Sen. William Moulton of Omaha, chairman of the Hi-Y, Tri-Hi-Y youth-in-government committee of the YMCA; Hugo Srb, clerk of the Legislature; and Gov. Ralph G. Brooks, who will speak at the session.

Lima, Ohio (AP) — When his wife refused to leave a tavern, Sescoe Howard went outside and pulled the handle on what he thought was the police alarm box. Two aerial ladder trucks, 3 pumpers and the fire chief's car showed up. His wife, Hazel, 43, was jailed on an intoxication charge.

Death Sought For American

Pinar del Rio, Cuba (AP)—An army prosecutor Thursday asked a military tribunal for a death sentence against Austin Frank Young of Miami, Fla. He is accused with 38 other persons of conspiring against the government.

A 30-year prison term at hard labor was asked for another American, Peter John Lambton of Nassau, Bahamas.

The two, plus the other defendants, were turned over earlier Thursday to the military tribunal for trial. Actual trial proceedings will begin Monday.

The members of the group were arrested late last month after a clash with an army patrol in which one soldier was killed. Officials accused them of training volunteers in an attempt to overthrow the government of Fidel Castro.

Young and Lambton denied the charges and have hired Cuban lawyers to defend them.

Farm Tax Facts

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

Probably few of us will live to see the day when all the conflicts of interest between city and rural dwellers are resolved. There will always be those who think any farm program at all is evil, particularly if it in any way carries a subsidy with it. And there will always be those who believe that farmers should make it on the land or go broke under terms of a completely free agriculture.

But any sensible person would look at the agricultural picture and know that the sickness with which it is afflicted has no clearcut answer. An excellent example of this has come to us in the form of a letter from a prominent Seward County farmer—a graduate of the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture. He speaks of the strained relationships between farm and city people and applies this specifically to the current educational problem of school redistricting. Generally, farm people are condemned for opposing redistricting.

Opposition To Redistricting

But what are the facts, as this farmer sees them? He cites two examples of redistricting and its effects upon rural areas —merging of rural schools with village schools and merging with a large city school. In the village merger, the rural levy for school purposes would go from 13 mills to 14.7 mills. The village levy would go from 40 mills to 14.7 mills.

In the case of redistricting with a large city, the picture shows an even more drastic change. After reorganization, the tax levy for educational purposes would go from the current 13 mills to 39.4 mills. The city levy for this purpose would fall from 41 mills to 39.4 mills. Under this program, the average money paid for school per farm would go from $173 to $525 a year and per city household from $155 to $149 a year.

One reaction from this, without the benefit of other facts, might be that the condition proves that farmers are now getting near to a free ride. But other things should be known before such a conclusion is accepted as fact. For instance, there is a 350,765 farm population in Nebraska with a per capita income of $1,545. The non-farm population is 1,101,235 with a per capita income of $1,905. The assessed valuation on farms is $1,434,598,420 and on city property is $1,533,635,269.

This valuation produces state taxes of $1,256,380 a year from farms and $13,172,182 from non-farm property. The per capita payments are $32.08 on the farm and $11.96 in the city. Thus, taxes are a bigger item on the farm than they are in the city, on an average basis. This explains the drastic effects of redistricting on agricultural areas.

When the rural areas are taken into city areas for any purpose, taxes to support that purpose must be averaged. This is the only way in which taxes can be levied. But the smaller the rural number and the larger the city number which are merged, the higher the tax average becomes for the rural area.

In other words, the small rural number cannot bring the tax average down for a much larger city area. The farmer, being such a small part of the whole, has little effect upon it and thus must approach its present standing if there is to be equalization. Obviously, the next question is whether such equalization stands for justice.

The answer to this question involves many things. Some people maintain that if the farmer has and needs all the property on which he is taxed, then that is just his tough luck from a tax point of view. They maintain that no other business gets property tax relief on the basis of a low profit. But that is not the whole story or the whole problem. Such a change as from 13 to nearly 40 mills tax would actually break many farmers. Whether the tax is right or wrong, it is easy to understand that no farmer is going to voluntarily approve of something which confiscates his livelihood and puts him out of business.

Clear Out Of The Picture

This is one of the practical aspects of redistricting that make the problem very difficult to deal with. And there is also some question as to the righteousness of a tax which can be so destructive against one entire class of taxpayers. It is short-sighted simply to state that what applies to business in a town, for instance, must also apply to the farmer's business. This ignores many differences and leaves conditions in general deadlocked.

"Come On, Lover, Let's Leap!"

Still Unsettled Question

The refusal of the last congress to abolish the ceiling on the interest rate for long term federal bonds only disposed of the question for the time being. It did not quench the determination of the administration and its high rate supporters.

A few weeks ago the Treasury Department offered a batch of its short term paper at 5 per cent and the issue was heavily oversubscribed. This prompted the Wall Street Journal to say that the easy sale showed that "interest rates still retain their power over the flow of savings and other capital funds . . . there is still a large body of capital funds in this country which the government can tap if it is willing to pay the price."

The Journal concluded that the high priced short term sale was a victorious skirmish and a demonstration that the battle could be won if the high interest rate could be applied to the long term issues.

To those who see it otherwise the high rate short term sale only showed that lavish use of interest rates can outbid other users of money if the full consequences are not weighed. The Wall Street Journal admits that the Treasury sale effected a heavy drain on building and loan and savings bank funds. It did not increase the supply of capital. But it did serve notice on other users of capital that if they wanted to remain in the running they would have to accept competition on the basis of ever higher interest rates. The inevitable result of this will be higher interest charges all around, together with higher prices as an inflationary consequence, and all without the real remedy of enough capital to go around. Such an imprudent bout leads to heavier taxes and generally higher cost of living.

If this blight is extended into federal long term borrowing there can be no retreat for a period of years. At least interest excesses in short term issues can be transitory.

Midland Meets Problem

Every now and then an institution takes the bull by the horns and solves a problem in the only way it can be solved. This was done last week by an educational institution —Midland College at Fremont, Neb. The problem was the lack of study time for students during the socially busy months of December and January. What did Midland do? Did they urge the students to burn the midnight oil? Did they advise the faculty to take it easy on the students these two months? Did they warn the students that they were expected to keep their grades up despite the load of extra-curricular activities?

Midland did none of these things. Very simply and directly, the college ordered all evening extra-curricular activities eliminated. Not only that, but the college administration was acting in the face of complaints from students that there was insufficient study time because of all the commitments to projects outside the classroom.

And oddly enough, there apparently is no one in Midland worrying about the "Well-rounded" student. Somehow or other, Midland believes that its primary responsibility is to see to it that its students are thoroughly educated. They have the effrontery to believe that students can develop their general social and club life after they have soaked up a little knowledge. And as a result of this thing, not a single student is expected to need psychoanalyzing.

Fantastic? Unbelievable? Maybe so, but there it is, just the same. Included in the activities eliminated were women's intramurals, fraternity and sorority pledge meetings, IRC meetings, Players and Puppets meetings, Chapel Choir rehearsals and other executive and club meetings. Prof. E. Jean Antes, dean of women, said: "This is not an edict from the administration but a ruling made after sensible thought on the part of faculty and students." Three cheers for, and more power to Midland College at Fremont!

Marxism On The Wane

It is of more than passing note that Germany's Social Democrats recently modified their political platform. When they finished there was very little Marxism left.

They rejected such basic Marxist dogma as: Socialism represents the interests of only the industrial working class; workers fight only for the social revolution, and the dictatorship of the proletariate.

Instead they asserted that the once exploited worker had attained citizenship with equal rights and obligations, ruled that totalitarian control destroys freedom, welcomed free initiative on the part of employers, free choice in respect to goods and services and place to work.

Reasons for such a broad departure? First, perhaps, is the decline of doctrinaire socialism as the idealized answer to social problems. Marxism is crumbling generally throughout Europe. Second is that Marxism as a political standard has been unable to attract the voters needed to get the job done.

It is beginning to dawn on the free world that Marxism is dogma and doctrine, but the thing that has really been making the Communist countries click is the industrial revolution, expressed in the determination of the technologically backward countries to catch up with the industrialized democracies of the West. It is significant that in Russia, self-styled true home of communism, the only Marxist institutions left standing are those that either promote the industrial revolution or do not inhibit it.

In the light of this there is an apparent unrealism in emphasizing the issue between communism and democracy as one mainly of political concepts. What concerns the West more is the fact that communism is employing totalitarian techniques for forced draft industrial and economic progress, and in the end the West will be more confronted with the results than with ideologies.

Doerfer Changes FCC Position

WASHINGTON — To use the words of the camp meeting revival, Chairman John Doerfer of the Federal Communications Commission has "got religion."

Standing before Madison Avenue executives meeting in Chicago, Chairman Doerfer spoke wrathily of the sins of television, blasted TV advertising practices, warned against distasteful deception. His voice had the ring of one who had suddenly walked down the sawdust trail.

It was only one month and 11 days earlier that the same Chairman Doerfer, appearing before the Harris Committee, ducked and equivocated regarding his responsibility for cracking down on TV deception.

"Has the commission authority to prevent programs which perpetrated fraud?" asked Congressman John Moss of California.

"There is a good deal of doubt about that," replied Doerfer, then proceeded to give a lot of alibis.

"Wasn't there a rule of the commision to prevent deceiving the public?" asked Counsel Robert Lishman.

"I don't know about that," replied the chairman of the commission, who is supposed to know. "I wasn't on the commission when any such rule was adopted." He explained that monitoring the networks was a "very voluminous" and "complicated procedure."

"Did you ever suspect that these programs might be fixed?" asked Lishman.

"I never did," replied Doerfer. "I can't speak for the other commissioners."

☆ ☆ ☆

Sen. Hugh Scott, Philadelphia Republican, has chosen a unique moment to disparage any investigation of radio and television. At a moment when even Chairman Doerfer, appointed to the FCC with the blessing of Senator McCarthy, has favored a TV cleanup, Senator Scott, who opposed Joe McCarthy, has made a speech belittling a TV-radio investigation and warning the public against it.

Sen. Warren Magnuson of Washington, chairman of the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee, appointed a subcommittee last summer to check on the networks. Its members include Sen. Ralph Yarborough, chairman, and Sen. Gale McGee of Wyoming, both Democrats; and Sen. Hugh Scott, Republican of Pennsylvania.

This puts Senator Scott in the position of opposing an investigation he has been appointed to help conduct. His foot-dragging may be one reason the new so-called "watchdog committee" has been sitting on its hands. Another reason may be that it has been given no money to spend.

Provocative Egg Stirs Inventors

WASHINGTON — Scrummage around the archives of the U.S. Patent Office and you'll make this discovery: That ever since the hen invented the egg there's been a scramble of inventors trying to improve on it.

When I wrote the other day that Arthur Locke of Algonac, Mich., patented an egg cooker that works something like a pop-up toaster, oldtimers began recalling that there had been other egg inventions.

Skeptically, I returned to the Patent Office and, what do you know—there were Rube Goldberg egg gismos dating back as far as 1891. Altogether there were 24 original, different automatic egg cookers.

Fanny Bryant of Lincoln, Kan. — back there nearly 70 years ago—devised the first one. It's actually an egg poacher, and oddly enough, it's strikingly similar to the one we now have in our kitchen!

☆ ☆ ☆

Probably the neatest scheme was patented in 1940 by Clifton Carr of North Powder, Ore. It's a pan fitted out with a wire rack. The rack holds six cups shaped like egg shells. Lift the cap of the cup, crack an egg in it, and set the water in the pan to boiling.

Although this logical invention was patented nearly 20 years ago I have yet to find one on the market.

Another great egg invention which apparently never caught on was patented in 1907 by Jasper Lee Adams of St. George Island, Md. It's an automatic egg steamer.

The steamer is shaped like a large teakettle, with the extra wide spout. The eggs rest on a perforated partition that pivots above the steaming water. When the eggs are done, tilt the steamer and, one by one, the cooked eggs roll out of the spout. Nifty, eh?

☆ ☆ ☆

In 1895, Charles Tillberg of Tell City, Ind., aware that roasted eggs have a better flavor than eggs cooked any other way, invented a device, Patent No. 543,199, that made the full use of the roasting idea.

It's a pan with an egg-holding tray inside. At the bottom of the pan is a small cup. These were Tillberg's instructions:

"Put a certain amount of alcohol in the cup (determined by a measuring gauge inside the cup), add a teaspoon of water, ignite, and cover the pan. When the alcohol has burned out, the eggs are done. The more alcohol, the harder the egg."

I would say Mr. Tillberg's invention now belongs in the Smithsonian.

City Noises Shatter Rural Ears

Editor Lisle Hanna was inclined to sneer when a business friend ripped Friday the 13th from the calendar without thinking, and then panicked because such a practice is considered bad luck. Such practices didn't bother him nor the Harvard Courier in the least, he boasted. And then spent the whole day trying to get his new press to work. A repairman straightened it out on Saturday.

It wasn't the students in Aurora who were at the old practice of apple-polishing their instructors. It was their mothers.

The Junior Woman's Club there had an apple placed on the desk of each of the staff, with the appropriate note tied to each apple: "Thanks for being a teacher."

Life on the farm these days is a real dream, Mrs. Lester Eastwood writes in the Pawnee Republican — if you believe what you read. All hard labor has given way to mechanization, and there are pictures proving it, with the farmer and his family relaxing in their big home whose picture windows overlook acres of bountiful crops.

Well, says Mrs. Eastwood, it all makes a lovely cover for a farm magazine and it may be true in a few places. But that's not the farm life she knows. Everyone has enough to eat and wear, and drives a respectable car, but she still knows many homes where water has to be carried from a well, the old wood-burners are "central heating," automatic washers are are the exception, and clothes driers are still a luxury . . .

Columnist Helen Marr of the Walthill Citizen and her sister-in-law attended a convention in Omaha recently. They looked forward to the fun and change of pace of spending two nights in a hotel. . .

It wasn't the quiet rural life, so much, as the difference in the variety of noises one hears that disturbed their sleep. The crowing of a rooster, the hooting of an owl, or the mooing of a cow wouldn't have bothered them, Mrs. Marr reported.

Helen Lough of the Albion News was touched with a wintertime nostalgia for the pleasures of childhood . . . munching apples and reading around the old base burner . . . the hot bricks wrapped in newspapers for the foot of the bed . . . the hot lemonade when cold germs threatened, "and occasionally on the nights when I wasn't catching a cold but could force a few convincing coughs" . . . taking sack lunches to school . . . the forts made of rolled-up snow and the snowball fights, and the games of Fox and Geese . . .

"But we sprang out of bed each time the shriek of a siren pierced the night air. . . Fire engines, police wagons, and rescue squads dash down the city streets at all hours of the day and night."

All neighborly helping hands are not found in the cornfields of the state. There is an unwritten and unspoken code of honor among weekly newsmen that each rallies to the assistance of the other whenever the need arises.

Don Bopp of the Spalding Enterprise was in the hospital and his family "were tired enough to drop" trying to get the paper out, when they looked up to see C. E. "Tommy" Thompson and his three printers from the Wolbach Messenger coming through the door.

"The family said they know now how France felt when the U.S. troops landed!"

Capital, Labor

Lincoln, Neb.

For 50-odd years I have heard talk on the subject of steel strikes, capital and labor. "Capital without labor would be like a fish out of water; it couldn't live long." The same would apply the other way around.

"All we have to do is organize and stick together and demand what we want." "Labor-saving machines are a curse to the U.S.A. In a few years, machines will do all the labor." Etc. More men are working than ever before — for more wages than ever.

The steel strikers want something more important than money. I can't figure out just what that is, and I am one member of that all-important American public, and I haven't met anyone who has, and I ask a lot of questions, too. Industry wants more production for that $3.30 or $3.65 per hour. Seems they are doing pretty well, as is. They don't say why they aren't getting it, either.

I understand the majority of the steel company big brass have come up from the workers — stokers, welders, etc. They should know the score. What has happened to that slogan, "The better we produce, the better we live?"

Amateur Or Pro?

Blair, Neb.

We have ended another so-so year of Nebraska University football. Sports writers in Lincoln and Omaha led us to believe over the last two years that Pat Fischer who is always on the injured list would be the "white hope." It has become increasingly obvious that he hasn't fulfilled yet. This last season it was the ailing Kramer who "might" have made the difference—if. Who will it be next year?

The decision should be, namely, will we have an amateur university team of boys who will divide their time equally between studies and football, or should we like all other institutions of higher learning with good football teams go professional and hire their mercenaries who post brilliant football victories but rarely ever see the inside of a textbook?

We have been getting second and third-raters for our football teams. We haven't come up with a top backfield performer in so many years that it burdens the memory. Those who even approach stardom have come from our own state.

For heaven's sake, let's face up to facts and buy the good ones, and then let them devote full time to the sport —or let us take what we can get and drop down into lesser competition. Year in and year out, our own Nebraska boys are about the only ones who really try for us.

Strange Game

Lincoln, Neb.

The news correspondent was denied the greatest opportunity of his reportorial career when Ike refused to take Harry along on his goodwill safari into three continents. But the dream lingers on.

How strange is the game of politics, as by politicians played,
And how true it is, in politics, that strange bedfellows are made;
But never a stranger twosome might have starred in that bedroom scene
Than the man from Independence and the man from Abilene;
For their ancient feud might have ended as did the battle between
The gingham dog and the calico cat, in "The Duel" by Field (Eugene).

The Americas

Lincoln, Neb.

Nelson Rockefeller claims there are only two nations equipped for global warfare —Russia and North America — plus South America.

While pouring millions of dollars into faraway lands, we have been sadly neglecting our inter-American relations. Aid that was given has been used, unfortunately, more to the advantage of the government than the people. For example, Batista squandered much of our Cuban aid in contracts to his colleagues.

Why, then, are we so bewildered at the growing tide of anti-Americanism — by the stoning of Vice President Nixon in Venezuela — by rioting in Panama and Cuba? Angered for our ignoring them, the peasants have fallen susceptible to Communist propaganda.

Certainly the situation is dangerous. If the Communists gain a foothold in this strategic position, they could create military bases. It is regrettable when it takes an attack on the vice president and a number of anit-American demonstrations before any positive action is taken. President Eisenhower's creation of a national advisory committee on inter-American relations was a wise move. I feel, however, that much more should be done than just "smoothing over" the ties.

Latin America must be made to feel we support them as equals and that "a house divided against itself cannot stand."

"Ecrasez l'infame!"

Thank You

Lincoln, Neb.

Thanks so much for the part The Star played in our Great Teaching Program emphasis here at Nebraska Wesleyan. It is because of this kind of loyalty and support that we at Wesleyan are moving forward with confidence. We cannot hope to advance without the encouragement and support of the Lincoln business community, and with the evidence of such interest we are moving forward, fully conscious of that concern.

OFF THE RECORD — By Ed. Reed

"Gee, it says I'm honest and trustworthy . . . and I put a slug in!"

U.S. HATER NAMED CUBA BANK BOSS

Havana (AP)—Maj. Ernesto "Che" Guevara, American-hating sympathizer of the Soviet Union, took over the Cuban National Bank in a cabinet shakeup Thursday.

WIREPHOTO

Prime Minister Fidel Castro chose Argentine-borne Guevara to replace Felipe Pazos, a financial conservative who was appointed ambassador-at-large for European economic affairs.

Also given cabinet posts were:

Capt. Osmany Cienfuegos, brother of the late Army head Maj. Camilo Cienfuegos, replacing Manuel Ray as minister of public works.

Navy Capt. Rolando Diaz Aztarain, replacing Faustino Perez as minister for the recovery of stolen public property.

The cabinet now has 11 military veterans of Castro's rebellion and 7 civilians.

The fifth shakeup in Castro's cabinet since January was announced after an 8-hour cabinet session. The changes were viewed by many observers here as another turn to the left. Many predicted that the few remaining "conservatives" in the official family will resign or be shuffled out within the next few weeks.

Guevara will be in a position practically to dictate Cuba's foreign trade. The National Bank grants import-export permits, makes foreign exchange available for financing imports and collects foreign exchange produced by exports.

He fled Guatemala when the Communist regime there was toppled, and joined Castro's rebels in Mexico. Castro regards him as an economic genius and recently sent him on a tour of Europe, Africa and Asia as a special economic envoy charged with broadening Cuba's commercial ties.

PLANS FAST

Elmer Simrell, wanted since May for mailing death threats to 7 judges, enters the Los Angeles federal building to surrender, just as he wrote newspapers he would. Simrell said he will "fast to the death to win unanimous approval" of his campaign against the "menace of modern womanhood."

Krupp To Retain His Empire

. . . Bonn Believes

Bonn, Germany (UPI)—The Western allies were expected to let munitions king Alfried Krupp remain sole owner of 600 million dollars worth of coal mines and steel mills because he can't find anyone wealthy enough to buy them.

Reliable sources said the 7-member West German-Allied Commission now studying disposition of the Krupp holdings is expected to report within the next 60 days that there is no one with enough money to purchase the Essen armaments empire.

The report may force the British, French and American governments to decide whether to cancel their 6-year old order to Krupp, Europe's richest man, to get rid of most of his property.

It is believed the U.S. and French governments have been all but ready to cancel that order for at least a year. The sources said the British government had stalled, pending the outcome of the recent elections.

Lonesome Actor Visited By Police

Los Angeles (AP)—Actor Jay Robinson, says a telephone operator, dialed her Thursday morning and stopped talking in mid-sentence.

Fearing illness or foul play, she sent police and firemen to his Bel Air home.

They said they found him sitting nude on a mattress, amid jelly rolls and potato chips, in a mansion devoid of furniture

"I'm Nero," they quoted him.

Then he said he was lonesome and down on his luck.

He served a jail term earlier this year after being convicted of narcotics possession.

An obliging officer, brimming with the spirit of Thanksgiving, dialed some of Robinson's friends, but they were either out or unable to pay him a visit.

So they left him, sitting on his mattress.

Miss Garland 'Doing Well'

New York (AP)—Singer Judy Garland was reported "coming along well" in recovering from a liver ailment.

A spokesman at Doctors Hospital said Miss Garland would probably remain there another two weeks. She was admitted Nov. 19.

Her husband, Sid Luft, has taken a room in the hotel section of the hospital to be near her.

The nature of the liver ailment was not disclosed.

Red Spies Face No Strong Penalties

Frankfurt, Germany (UPI)—Spying for the communists on U.S. forces in Germany has become an adventuresome and not too dangerous profession, a survey disclosed.

West German police arrest 10 to 15 persons a day as suspects but even when they get convictions the sentences often are light and the spies eventually are back in business.

West German newspapers have begun taking notice of the situation and are demanding stiffer penalties.

Only major spy cases are tried by the federal supreme court in Karlsruhe.

The less glamorous cases fall to the Neustadt court. And to the embarrassment of Neustadt court and city officials, the city is considered a central meeting place for communist spies and agents in West Germany.

The main reason is that numerous military garrisons, air fields and munition depots dot the surrounding region. They include one of the most important U.S. Army command centers in Europe.

Most of the spies caught are working for the East German communists but occasionally some are from other satellite countries.

6 Month Term

An example of the type of case tried by the Neustadt court is Johann Friedrich Merz, 27, arrested for spending his spare time collecting data on U.S. Army troop movements and location of military installations. After a brief trial he was sentenced to 6 months in jail.

Manfred Friedrich, who worked at an American military installation in southern Germany, was convicted of passing on to East German agents information he had stolen from office files. He received a 5-month term.

Erwald Karl Duenckler, 21, an East Berliner, was convicted of sending sketches of American military installations to the Soviet zone. He drew 4 months.

German and American authorities have tightened security recently but it generally is accepted that the spy business will flourish until it is made a more dangerous game.

COED KILLED AND 7 ARE INJURED IN TRAFFIC CRASH

Charleston, W. Va. (UPI)—A West Virginia State College coed was killed and seven others were injured—two of them Purdue University football players—in a traffic accident near here.

State police said an automobile carrying 4 Purdue students ran out of control on U.S. Route 60, crossed the medial strip and crashed into another car.

Norva Goins, 20, Charleston, a student at West Virginia State College, was killed instantly. Three other occupants of her car were injured.

The injured football players were Emory Turner, 22, Hampton, Va., a senior guard, and Henry Jackson, 22, Charlottsville, Va., named the outstanding lineman on the Purdue freshman team.

Benson Says Foes Distort His Feelings

Washington (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson said Thursday night political opponents have succeeded to some extent in depicting him as being unsympathetic toward farmers.

He said he believes nevertheless that most farmers support his efforts to get the government further out of agriculture by lessening production controls and price-fixing.

Benson said farmers have his full sympathy and interest. And he indicated he has every intention of sticking to his post despite criticism.

Asked if he would quit if it were shown that he is a political liability to the Republican Party, Benson replied:

"I'm not one that runs away from a fight."

DARWIN THEORY GOSPEL TRUTH, SAY SCIENTISTS

Chicago (UPI) — A panel of scientists agreed that, 100 years after Charles Darwin expounded his theory of "survival of the fittest," evolution is a fact, not a theory.

The scientists, participating in the University of Chicago's Darwin centennial celebration, also agreed:

—Sex started at an extremely early stage in the evolutionary process, possibly with life itself.

—Some combination of mutation and recombination is the raw material for change, and natural selection is the main directional principle.

—Scholars of evolution, a century after Darwin, still have much to learn.

"I think if Charles Darwin had been alive for this panel he would have been absolutely bewildered at so many new things, new terms and new ideas that have come up," said Sir Julian Huxley, English biologist who presided at the 3-hour, free-for-all discussion.

History Repeats

"He would have been very excited, and I am sure if we were to assemble 100 years hence we should be equally bewildered, but we have got a wonderful field for biologists to follow," Huxley said.

Louis S. B. Leakey, British anthropologist who last July found in Tanganyika the fossil remains of what has been described as the "first unquestionable man," told scholars at another Darwin centennial session that Darwin was correct in his theory that man originated in Africa.

Leakey said Darwin's beliefs have been "more than substantiated by fossil evidence found over the past 100 years," although the finding of the Java man and Peking man temporarily caused scientists to look to Asia as the "cradle of man."

Arms Deal Denied

Amman, Jordan (UPI) — Italy has officially denied published reports that it was ready to sell surplus U.S. arms to Israel, the Jordan government announced.

Spy's Mom Tries Without Success To See President

Washington (UPI) — Mrs. Rose Sobell, mother of convicted spy Morton Sobell, made another unsuccessful attempt Thursday to see President Eisenhower on behalf of her son.

It was the second time in two weeks Mrs. Sobell had sought White House help in obtaining a parole for Morton, who is serving a 30-year sentence in the Atlanta, Ga., federal prison.

Earlier this week she tried to see Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers at the Justice Department, but was turned away there, too.

Mrs. Sobell was denied admittance to the executive mansion when she appeared at one of the White House gates. Guards said she asked to see the President and that her request was telephoned to the White House proper.

There was no official statement from the White House on why her request was rejected.

Sobell, 42, was convicted with Julius and Ethel Rosenberg in 1951 of stealing secret information on radar and passing it on to Russia. The Rosenbergs, who dealt in atomic information, were executed.

Rules Say Mamie's Sub No Stand-In

Washington (UPI) — Under strict rules of protocol, Barbara Eisenhower cannot serve as first lady "stand-in" for her mother-in-law while accompanying the president on his forthcoming goodwill trip abroad, officials said.

"We don't have a stand-in for Mrs. Mamie Doud Eisenhower," White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said in response to queries.

When it was announced earlier this month that Barbara would make the trip, she was dubbed unofficially as a substitute for the first lady, who is not accompanying the President. Mrs. Eisenhower is foregoing the trip because she does not like long plane flights and does not feel up to the hectic schedule the President will follow.

It was emphasized, however, that Barbara should not be considered an official hostess for the President.

Merely A Wife

Another White House aide said that from a protocol standpoint Barbara ranks "merely as the wife of her husband, a White House staff officer." Her husband, Maj. John Eisenhower, assistant White House staff secretary, also is accompanying the President.

The aide said that under protocol rules observed in this country, Barbara's position would be considerably down the line from the first lady's. But what the foreign governments elect to do in placing Barbara in receiving lines or at dining tables "is their own business," the aide said.

The White House spokesman was not aware of any formal notification of Barbara's protocol status being sent to the 11 nations the President will visit. But any nations making inquiries are being told informally that her ranking is as the wife of a White House staff member.

Tune Spun 300 Times; 4 Laid Off

Norfolk, Va. (UPI)—Radio station WCMS has suspended 4 disc jockeys for playing a novelty tune more than 300 times in a row and announced it was looking into the possibility of a "payola" deal.

General manager Roy Lamere announced that the 4 would not be on the air until a complete investigation is made.

An engineer and the station's news director were put to work playing records to replace the disc jockeys.

One denied that payola, payments or gifts from record companies or song publishers for plugging a certain record, was involved.

"The whole thing was a joke," he said, adding that he and his 3 colleagues decided to make the current "payola" investigation "look ridiculous" by plugging one "ridiculous" record.

Lamere said he discovered after a day's absence from the studios that the 4 had played "Pachalafaka," a Turkish novelty tune, 320 times in a row. The station was swamped with protesting callers.

"We are currently trying to trace (the record's) origin and any connection our announcers may have with the company," Lamere said.

"Heretofore, in all WCMS history, there has never been any evidence of unethical practices," Lamere said.

The disc jockeys picketed the radio station in downtown Norfolk in protest of their suspension.

Dead End Street Opens Like Magic

BEATRICE, Nebr.—Mrs. E. M. Graham, 919 Elk St., says: "Several years ago my husband had dandruff and itchy scalp very bad. My son worked at the drug store, and he kept hearing so many people praise Baker's Hair Tonic, so he brought home a bottle. In just a short time my husband was free of the torment caused by dandruff and itchy scalp. We have never been without Baker's since." It's so easy and pleasant to use. Not messy or greasy like most so-called dandruff remedies. Use it any time, anywhere. There is no Federal excise tax on Baker's Hair Tonic, because it's a specific for dandruff. If you have been traveling down what seemed to be a "dead end street" looking for something to clean up dandruff and itchy scalp, your search will end like magic when you use Baker's Hair Tonic. You can depend on it — Baker's will clean up dandruff and itchy scalp, or money back. Adv.

Coffee this day beside the beach at Waikiki. Under the coconut palms we have the morning hula lesson. Most hotels give these lessons for free on the sound principle that "the more they shake, the more we make."

Music comes from the loudspeaker: "She's just a little brown girl in a little grass skirt, in a little grass shack in Hawaii . . ."

"ONE, two, three and, ONE, two, three and," says the hula lady. "Hands make the grass skirt and ONE, two, three and."

It improves the taste of the morning coffee. All the serious tourist ladies, barefoot, making with their hula hands the "All the ama ama come swimming to me . . ."

Maid and matron. In Bermudas, semi-shorts or demi-bikinis.

". . . through the Islands' wonderlands, she's broken all the kanes' hearts . . ."

☆ ☆ ☆

In 1820, Missionary Hiram Bingham gazed on such Hawaiian sights and declared:

"The appearance of destitution, degradation and barbarism . . . was appalling. Some of our number with gushing tears, turned away from the spectacle."

But—"others with firmer nerve continued their gaze, but were ready to exclaim: 'Can these be human beings! How dark and comfortless their state of mind and heart! How imminent the danger to the immortal soul shrouded in this deep pagan gloom!'"

Our hula class does not look gloomy at all, the lotus eaters.

They have a dreamy look in the eyes. Of sun-kissed days and moonlit nights and breaking all the kanes' hearts.

On Sunday, we have church services instead of hula lessons.

☆ ☆ ☆

With Hawaii only 4½ hours and $99 away from the Mainland, the land of the hula is pouring out charm to fill every hotel and boarding house.

Tourist business is number 3 in the Islands—after sugar and pineapple.

Last year, the Islands entertained 170,000 tourists.

☆ ☆ ☆

Surveyors of American dreams say that Hawaii is the place most of us would most like to go. The survey is so strong that most competitions offer it as first prize—it is sure-fire.

In this hotel alone, today, we have a group of General Electric salesmen winners—they overshot the quota and Paradise is their reward; 25 winners of Kaiser Aluminum's backyard barbecue contest that started with 10,000 hopefuls, and the Salvation Army.

We are offered hulas in grass skirts and luau pigs in formal dress of ti leaves. Suntan, sunburn, ukulele lessons, free movies of the islands, orchid leis, surfboard and canoe and catamaran rides—complete with dinner and a beforehand rum punch.

Over all blows the trade wind, soft and steady as when it blew on the original missionaries (61 male and 67 female)—the first tourists.

Said Rev. Hiram Bingham: "Can such beings be civilized? Can they be Christianized? Can we throw ourselves upon these rude shores, and take up our abode for life among such people, for the purpose of training them for Heaven?"

He then walked down the gangplank and spent 21 fruitful years.

Thousands Pause For Thanksgiving Prayer Here

Lincoln homes and churches were filled with songs of praise and prayers of thanksgiving, as thousands paused to count their blessings in observance of Thanksgiving Day.

"Thanksgiving seems most spontaneous in the presence of hardship and suffering," the Rev. Fred Register, executive minister of the Congregational Conference, told worshippers attending services at Eastridge Presbyterian Church Thursday morning.

"Today we live in the midst of such great prosperity that thanklessness filtrates into our lives along with its close companion—greed," he said.

"The only real safeguard is through sharing what we possess on a voluntary basis," the Rev. Mr. Register added.

Dr. William B. Gould, director of the Wesley Foundation at the University of Nebraska, spoke on "Christ In Our Thanksgiving," at services at First Methodist Church.

He pointed out that "many times we've been grateful to Him but not for Him."

He emphasized the 3 things for which Christ was thankful:

—material blessing, as was pointed out by William Temple, former archbishop of the Anglican Church, "Because Christ takes material needs of people seriously."

—God's revelation.

—communion with God.

Scouts Buy Happy Hollow Schoolhouse

Craig — Happy Hollow school here, empty since a recent school reorganization move, will be bursting at the seams once more.

The school, abandoned when District 26 incorporated with 3 other rural schools into Craig's district 27, has been purchased by the Craig Boy Scout troop.

The Boy Scout troop has circled Christmas on their calendar, and expects to have its new "headquarters" in shape by then.

The school was purchased by the troop for $160 — money earned by the Scouts themselves or donated by their parents. Money left in the purchase fund will be used to repair and remodel the school.

First item on the repair list is the floor, "the only part of the building that needs immediate attention," Scout leaders say.

The Rev. Norman Crounse, pastor of Craig Methodist Church, and Scoutmaster William Bowland led the campaign to purchase the empty school.

Happy Hollow School is situated in a deep hollow near the banks of Bell Creek, about 1 mile north and 1½ miles east of Craig.

Strategists Puzzle Taft '52 Memo

Washington (AP) — Political strategists are trying to figure out what bearing a long-secret memorandum by Robert A. Taft may have on the 1960 political wars.

The document written by the late senator from Ohio has just become public. In it, he held that the power of the New York financial community and a "tremendous publicity blitz" by much of the nation's press was responsible for his defeat by Dwight D. Eisenhower for the 1952 Republican presidential nomination.

The memo by Taft, to his campaign strategists, said they had done all they could in his behalf.

Warning Seen

Some politicians said that forces backing Vice President Richard Nixon for the 1960 GOP presidential nomination might find in the memo a warning against over-confidence.

One man, a top figure in Taft's 1948 and 1952 bids for the nomination, said the Taft document might serve as a notice to Nixon supporters that the political troops behind Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York have plenty of big guns—possibly bigger than Nixon's—at their command if Rockefeller decides to run.

"I don't know what individual released this confidential memorandum," the source said. "Its publication in itself is of no political significance that I can see, except the significance it has as to showing Dick Nixon what he may be up against.

"They beat the hell out of us twice.

Similarities Told

"There are signs right now that Nixon may have to face much of the same power that defeated Sen. Taft."

There was no comment from Nixon himself.

One of his top political strategists, however, said he believes the problems faced by Taft against Eisenhower and those Nixon might face in a race with Rockefeller are not comparable.

"The odds against Taft were greater as soon as Eisenhower came into the race," this source said. "Eisenhower was a man of tremendous popularity.

Popularity High

"Nixon's popularity, as measured in the public opinion polls, is higher than ever before and it has continued a steady rise.

"In my view, this would make it harder to convince the 'professionals' that they should change from Nixon to support Rockefeller."

In addition, this source said, men who were active in support of Eisenhower also are active in supporting Nixon. He said these include William E. Robinson, board chairman of Coca Cola, who has been a golfing companion to Eisenhower; Barry T. Leithead, president of the shirt manufacturers Cluett, Peabody & Co., and Barney Balaban president of Paramount Pictures. The informant said many members of the New York financial community are identified with the newly organized New Yorkers for Nixon group.

This source said the Nixon people expect that a Nixon-Rockefeller contest "would split the New York financial community" but that of course it is too early to say now what percentages the split would follow.

Pirate Treasure?

Middletown, N.J. (AP)—Pirate crews often came here during the 17th Century for rest and refuge, and many residents still believe that Capt. Kidd's famed treasure is buried somewhere near here.

Dear Abby--

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am writing to you concerning my daughter. She is 15 years old and in her second year of high school. She is a good girl and has never run around. She is well thought of in school and plays in the band. She has been going with a boy, who is also 15, for about a year. She told me last night that she is two months pregnant. This boy is too young to get married and too young to work. I am a widow with other children and don't know where to turn for help. Please tell me what to do.

HEART-BROKEN MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: First you must meet with the parents of this boy. These children are very young to assume the responsibilities of parenthood. Does your daughter want to marry the boy? Is it her intention to keep the baby or does she plan to give it up for adoption? Then, go to your clergyman. He will guide you to the proper agencies whose function it is to work these problems out. This is not the end of the world, Mother. Trust your clergyman to help you find the most practical solution. Good luck!

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: I am very disgusted with my husband. He never tells me he loves me unless I ask him and then he says, "I married you, didn't I?" Also, he doesn't want me to sign my name "Mrs. Otto Last name." (Please don't print print my last name.) He makes me sign my name "Bertha Last name." When we give a donation he says it is from "Otto Last name and family." What is the matter with him do you suppose? And how should I sign my last name?

"BERTHA LAST NAME"

DEAR BERTHA: Your legal signature is "Bertha Last name." And socially you should be known as Mrs. Otto Last name." Your husband has "I" trouble. Big "I" —small "you."

☆ ☆ ☆

CONFIDENTIAL TO BOB W. AND KATHY C.: Beg, borrow or buy a November McCalls and read aloud to each other "WHY TEENAGE MARRIAGES ARE FALLING APART". This article could change your minds and I hope it does. Good luck!

☆ ☆ ☆

CONFIDENTIAL TO JINNY: Give them a set of towels marked "hers" and "it."

If you have a problem, write to Abigail Van Buren in care of this paper. She will be glad to answer your letter. For a personal reply, enclose a self-addressed envelope.

ASK—

Dorothy Draper

If you have a hall closet a certain amount of space must be reserved for guests' coats. It is a nice idea to keep special coat hangers for guests. Noticeable smart ones of lacquer-red or some other bright color—all the same size and color—brighten the closet and are practical too. Have enough so that when you have a party there is a hanger for each guest.

Miss J.P. asks:

"I live alone and my living room is lined with bookcases from floor to ceiling, and I often leave the jackets on them for protection. Do you think this spoils the appearance of the shelves . . . the room?"

Dear Miss J.P.:

No, I'm sure the various colorings on the book jackets lend a lively bit of pattern to your room. To me, there is nothing more dreary than shelves filled with dusty rusty brown or gray book covers. I like all the life and friendliness that the colorful jackets impart to a room.

Mrs. F.S.W. asks:

"Is it considered 'bad decorating' to have no pattern in a room? Magazines tell about 'plain rug and patterned curtains; no pattern on curtain if rug is busy; beware of too many patterned chairs, etc.' Is a room considered dull with no pattern at all?"

Dear Mrs. F.S.W.:

One of the prettiest rooms I have ever seen was done in different shades of blue with not a pattern in it.

It was restful. It was striking in its simplicity and it had that wonderful "come rest awhile" quality, yet with the deep intense tones of blue it was not wishy-washy or dull. The reason you read so much advice on plain and patterned problems is that many people use too many patterns at one time, so magazines keep plugging away at the "use of a plain fabric with a patterned rug, etc." As a matter of fact, you can use a small pattern with a large pattern, a stripe with a small print . . . but to be on the safe side, it's better to have too much "plain" than too much "pattern."

"Be Your Own Decorator," a fascinating and most informative booket by Dorothy Draper, is available to readers of this newspaper. Send 25 cents in coin and your name and address printed, care of this newspaper. Mrs. Draper cannot answer personal mail, but will use questions of widest general appeal in her column.

The Star In Suburbia

SOUTH HIILLS

Celebrating Thanksgiving last Sunday were the Wayne Knaub family. Dinner guests seated around the turkey on the table included Mrs. Knaub's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Mahi; her brother and sister, Horace and Patricia Mahi; another sister, Mrs. Kappie Latture, and Joani and Thomas Knaub.

HOLLINGSWORTH HEIGHTS

Oddly enough although Thanksgiving was yesterday, there still is news of holiday guests and gatherings.

Guests arrived from Belleville, Ill. during the weekend to visit at the Clay Cox home. The visitors were Mrs. Cox's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Watkins, and their three children.

Now visiting at the Richard Campbell residence are Mrs. Campbell's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Trupp, and their two daughters, Sondra and Connie, of Denver and arriving yesterday morning from McCook were another brother and sister-in-law of Mrs. Campbell's, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Trupp and their children, Jimmy, Kathy, and Karen. Both families spent Thanksgiving with Mr. and Mrs. Campbell and will return to their respective homes Sunday.

And still more news of visitors in Hollingsworth Heights. At the home of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Gelber last week-end was Mrs. Gelber's sister, Mrs. Carl P. Gerber. Mrs. Gerber returned to her home in Minneapolis on Sunday.

Coming home to spend the Thanksgiving holiday with his parents and taking a break from his studies at the University of St. Louis School of Medicine is Phillip J. Gelber. He will remain until Sunday.

Twenty Hollingsworth Heights ladies were greeted by telephone calls from Mrs. Ted Martens and Mrs. Norman Gittleson last Wednesday morning. The message was that each was invited to a Come-As-You-Are coffee given at the Gittleson home.

FIENE HEIGHTS

Mr. and Mrs. Leland Yant accompanied by their son, Roger, went to Wichita Wednesday to spend the holiday. They are guests of Mrs. Yant's parents, Dr. and Mrs. G. F. Piercy; and her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. William Brainerd. The threesome will return to Lincoln Sunday.

PRAIRIE VALLEY

Moving into a new home the first part of November were Mr. and Mrs. Gayle B. Childs and their family. The Prairie Valley address of this busy foursome is 4530 Van Dorn. Mr. Childs, in case you didn't know, is a professor of secondary education at the University of Nebraska, and Mrs. Childs' professional interest is piano instruction in their home. Bill Childs is a senior at Lincoln High School while his sister, Ann, is attending Irving Junior High School.

BRIDGE

By B. Jay Becker

You are South, both sides vulnerable. The bidding has been:

East	South	West	North
Pass	Pass	Pass	1 ♠
Pass	?

What would you now bid with each of the following four hands?

1. ♠QJ62 ♥A984 ♦73 ♣K65
2. ♠—— ♥J62 ♦J9854 ♣J9632
3. ♠Q4 ♥QJ53 ♦AJ62 ♣K94
4. ♠KJ76 ♥4 ♦85 ♣AJ9752

1. Three spades. The responses to an opening bid frequently take on a different meaning after a player has passed originally. Without a previous pass, a response of three spades would be regarded as a distinct overbid, because it would drive the bidding to game with insufficient values.

But in this case, the jump raise is acceptable because the bid is not forcing to game after a previous pass. It merely invites the opener to continue, bearing in mind the responders original pass. Game is not likely to be made unless partner has that little bit extra above a minimum bid that we lack for a full three spade response.

2. Pass. This is an unpleasant predicament where anything that is done may turn out to be wrong. Judging from the opponents' silence, partner has a good hand. But the danger of responding in order to protect his hand is that any bid made may cause him to go sky-high and make an already bad situation worse.

It is normal to feel there is probably a better contract than one spade, but it is too dangerous to seek it. Matters could easily get out of control regardless of what response other than a pass were chosen.

3. Three notrump. No risk of winding up in anything less than a game contract should be run. The hand is ideal for notrump purposes, with strength in all suits and typical notrump distribution.

It can be argued that the hand should not have been passed originally, but this merely lends force to the necessity of bidding game directly. A jump to two notrump would not compensate sufficiently for the earlier pass, which was based largely on the difficulty of choosing a suit with which to open the bidding. Even if partner opened a minimum fourth hand bid, in which case he might pass two notrump, we should still want to be in game with 13 high-card points.

4. Four spades. Here again a game contract should be undertaken. While we have only 9 points in high cards, the excellent trump support and the distributional factors increase the value of the hand to the point where it can be regarded as a full opening bid. The principle of two opening bids making a game is applied.

Bride On Thursday

MRS. DANIEL KELLY

Lighted white candles and bouquets of white blossoms decorated the altar of Calvary Lutheran Church on Thursday afternoon, Nov. 26, for the marriage of Miss Gunta Melnalksnis of Lincoln, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Seglins of Omaha, to Daniel Kelly, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel P. Kelly of Southampton, Long Island, N.Y. In the presence of family members and a small group of friends, the 3 o'clock ceremony was solemnized by the Rev. W. W. Koenig.

Mrs. Richard Becker, wearing a sheath frock of embroidered taffeta in Horizon blue, was her sister's matron of honor and only attendant. A headbow of blue velvet and feathers completed her costume, and she carried a cluster of white carnations.

Serving Mr. Kelly as best man was Douglas Martin, Jr.

The bride's gown of white silk taffeta was fashioned in the daytime length. Iridescent paillettes and seed pearls patterned the Empire waist of the long-sleeved bodice, and the flaring skirt was softly bowed at the back. Her coif veil of illusion was trimmed with tiny silk tassels.

The couple will reside on Long Island, N.Y.

Service Circles

This is a busy week-end for a few members of our air base suburbia. Among those who are "thankful" they've been given the "green light" to move into their new quarters in the circle on Castle Terrace are Col. and Mrs. William Working (Col. Working is LAFB's Base Commander), Col. and Mrs. Wilbur Beezley, Col. and Mrs. Earl Batten, Col. and Mrs. J. O. Britt, Col. and Mrs. John R. Grunwell and Col. and Mrs. R. D. Stepp.

. . . and the sudden "go ahead" signal caught the Earl Battens by surprise. It seems Doris had invited 14 guests to gather 'round the festive board . . . and suddenly on Wednesday the festive board was pulled out from under her! So the turkey and all the trimmings moved down to the W. G. Walker quarters and Lt. Col. and Mrs. Walker co-hosted the Thanksgiving affair with Col. and Mrs. Batten.

. . . friends of Miss Cindy Pelikan will be pleased to learn that she dashed home (for keeps) and in time to celebrate Thanksgiving with her parents, SMSgt. and Mrs. M. L. Pelikan. She has been spending the past several months in Riverside, Calif.

. . . it's time to say our farewells to Major and Mrs. K. F. Gallagher, now in the guest house and ready to depart on a PCS move. Their itinerary calls for a month's leave visiting relatives in Connecticut, then a drive to California to catch a plane, January 14, for Guam. Accompanying their Mom and Dad overseas are Kathy, Mary, Kenny and Tracey.

. . . more too, on the party front: Mrs. William Garland entertained 20 civilian guests from Lincoln on Tuesday at a 12:30 luncheon preceded by a tour of the base. Included in the tour was a visit to the Control Room, Altitude Chamber and Simulator.

Then on Friday evening Colonel and Mrs. Garland will entertain Squadron Commanders and their wives from the 98th Wing at a 7 o'clock Mexican buffet at their quarters on Michael Terrace.

. . . among the younger set we found that Christine Johnson, daughter of WO and Mrs. Stanley Johnson, celebrated her eighth birthday Nov. 21, with an afternoon party at the family quarters on Walker. Her guest list included Joyce Vlahovic, Sandra Gardner, Patty Gates, Nancy Read, Beth Corbin, Patsy Collins, Robin West, Rene Shulgin and Robin Sweesy.

. . . and Sherry Christie's parents, Lt. Col. and Mrs. C. P. Christie, tossed a small party for her on Sunday in celebration of her twelfth birthday. Joining Sherry at the movie and later for dessert were Suzan Veiluva, Barbara Gates, Elizabeth Stringer and Barbara Brown.

PARTY CHEESE BALL

Party invitations will be flying as fast as snowflakes from now on through the holidays. The open house and the canape party are two of the most popular types of entertainment during the holidays, and the busy hostess is on the lookout for the kind of food that is easily prepared in advance of party time.

Here, for the hostess who would like to increase her repertoire of hors d'oeuvres recipes, are some ideas that should fill the party bill.

PARTY CHEESE BALL

2 (3-oz.) portions Roquefort Cheese
2 (5-oz.) jars Vera-Sharp Cheese Spread
2 (5-oz.) packages Cream Cheese
2 tablespoons grated onion
1 teaspoon Worcestershire Sauce
1 cup ground pecans
½ cup finely chopped parsley

Let cheeses soften at room temperature. Combine cheeses, onion, Worcestershire sauce; blend well. Stir in ½ cup of the pecans and ¼ cup of the parsley. Shape mixture into ball. Place in bowl lined with waxed paper. Chill overnight.

About 1 hour before serving, roll ball in mixture of remaining pecans and parsley. Place on platter and surround with crisp crackers. Serve as an hors d'oeuvre or, serve with fresh fruits in season as a dessert.

BACON 'N CHEESE TIDBITS

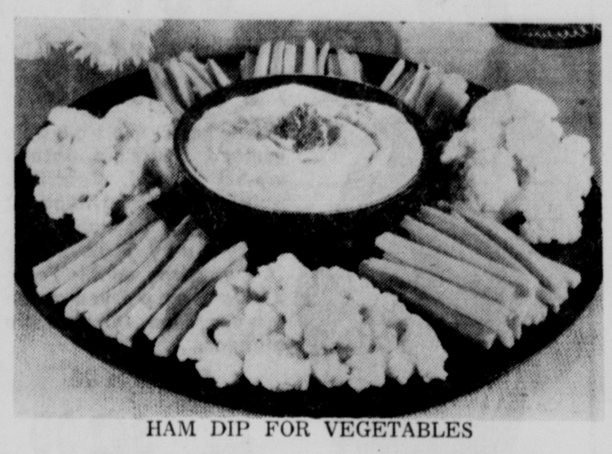
8 slices cooked bacon
¼ cup mayonnaise
3 teaspoons finely chopped onion
2 teaspoons prepared mustard
⅓ cup shredder processed cheese, sharp
6 slices white sandwich bread

Combine mayonnaise, onion, mustard, and cheese. Blend. Remove crusts from bread. Cut each slice of bread into 4 triangular pieces. Place the bread on a cooky sheet. Using the broiler, toast the bread on one side. Turn the toast points over and spread with 1 teaspoon of the cheese mixture. Cut each slice of cooked bacon in 3 equal-sized pieces. Top each appetizer with a piece of the bacon. Place the appetizers under the broiler for about 1 minute to melt the cheese and to blend flavors. Serve immediately. Makes about 24 appetizers.

CRUNCHY BACON CHIP DIP

½ cup cooked, chopped bacon
½ cup cream cheese
2 teaspoons catsup
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
⅛ teaspoon ground ginger
¼ cup dairy soured cream
Potato chips or crackers

Soften cream cheese. Add catsup, mustard, ginger, soured cream, and bacon. Blend well. Serve with potato chips or crackers. Makes about one cup of dip.



HAM DIP FOR VEGETABLES

Fresh, crisp vegetables—now on the market—such as cauliflower, celery and carrots, make the most refreshing, healthful dunking food for a dip of spicy deviled ham, sour cream and onion!

4½ ounce can deviled ham
1-3 cup sour cream
1 tablespoon onion, minced

Combine the deviled ham with the sour cream and minced onion. Use as a dip for vegetables such as cauliflower, carrot sticks and celery sticks.

Wilson Warns Strikers That Jobs In Jeopardy

Chicago (AP)—Wilson and Co. Thursday told striking employes that they must either return to work or run the risk of being replaced.

John L. Cockrill, vice president of Wilson & Co., said, "The time has come when we must resume full production at our plants as quickly as possible, and in order to do so, we must fill all vacant jobs."

Wages are not involved in the dispute which has been marked with walkouts.

Wilson maintains that the company has met all reasonable demands of the United Packinghouse Workers of America, but that UPWA will not accept the terms because of a $250,000 damage suit filed against the union by the company in the dispute over work stoppages, and the dismissal of Cedar Rapids employes for refusal to work except under union contract.

The Wilson contract with UPWA expired Aug. 31.

The company said that over 75% of the employes at the Los Angeles plant are back on the job, the Memphis plant is nearing full production with 80% of the normal workforce, and operations at other plants are continuing on a reduced basis.

Man-Made Lake At Technical School Is Almost Complete

Water Project Supported By Schoolmaster, Youths

By Gene Budig

Milford—If Lowell Welsh's ideas continue to materialize, the Nebraska Technical School here will have one of the Midwest's most attractive campuses.

The school director's "pet" project will reach an important milestone next week with the diversion of water from Coon Creek to a man-made lake on campus. The creek runs within 50 feet of the lake.

The lake, in the southeast corner of the grounds, will hold nearly 13 million gallons of water and cover an area of 150 by 250 feet.

Since the student work project was introduced last summer, it has progressed rapidly under the direction of the school's drafting and survey department.

Picnic Ground Planned

"The lake should be complete with picnic grounds early next spring," Welsh said. The lake area will probably be open to the public.

The school administrator hopes the State Game Commission will stock the new lake, which at its deepest point will hit 10 foot.

"This could develop into a pretty good fishing hole," he said, "but I doubt if there will be enough room for boating of any kind."

Surplus Property Used

Equipment for the Welsh inspired project was purchased through the surplus property division of the State Department of Education. Welsh said the cost of the machinery was extremely low.

Three drag lines and 5 caterpillars were used by the student builders.

"In addition to having a good time and assisting the school, the students received important practical experience with big machinery," he added.

The 20,000 tons of soil taken from the lake site are being used to beautify other sections of the Milford campus.

WON'T BE LONG . . . Water will be diverted to this man-made lake near Milford next week. (Star Staff Photo)

Jail Break Costs Man His Dinner

Schuyler (AP) — William Wilson, 30, broke out of county jail early Thursday and after several hours playing hide and seek with lawmen ended up in the Schuyler City Jail.

The futile bid for freedom cost him his Thanksgiving dinner.

Wilson tore loose some steel in the county jail and used it to open the cell door. Then, after breaking into the county treasurer's office and taking $3 and some odd cents, he fled from the courthouse and stole a truck, officers said.

Night policeman Ed Housek and another officer pursued him in a high speed chase which ended when the truck smashed into a fence.

Housek said Wilson disappeared in the dark through a field, came back to town and again evaded police. Next he took a pickup truck from a farm near Schuyler and drove to Columbus.

Captured In Columbus

Wilson abandoned the truck and shortly afterwards was captured by Columbus police. He offered no resistance.

He was returned to Schuyler and lodged in the city jail pending repairs on the county jail.

Deputy Sheriff Fred Kemp said he had arranged for Wilson to have a Thanksgiving meal in the county jail but after the break, he would get whatever the regular fare was in the city jail.

When Wilson broke out he left behind a note to Kemp saying he could be found in Dayton, Ohio, where he had "a score I must settle."

Kemp asked him about that after his capture. Wilson's only comment was that there was a woman involved.

State Oil Office Set For Sidney

. . . Rhodes Heads Staff

Sidney—Nebraska's Oil and Gas Conservation field office will finally get a home here Dec. 15 after spending most of its existence as a briefcase operation.

Heading the staff is the recently appointed Oil and Gas Commission director H. N. Rhodes.

Rhodes, 33, a native Nebraskan, formerly served with the New Mexico Oil Conservation Commission and as a special projects engineer for the British-American Oil Producing Co. at Denver.

Nebraska's establishment of an Oil and Gas Commission comes some 10 years after the discovery of oil in the western part of the state and 5 years after the big boom.

More Professional Basis

The new Commission director points out the office will finally put the state's oil business on a more professional and businesslike basis.

The director and his inspectors have the right to inspect oil and gas properties and wells to make sure provisions of the oil and conservation rules are being carried out.

He also noted that the Oil and Gas Conservation Commission can go a long way toward promoting orderly development while continuing to regulate operations in developed areas.

One of the major functions of the field office will be to regulate the activities on well spacing and determine efficient rates of production.

They will also serve as referees in protecting the rights of lease holders and land holders in any disputes.

The Farm outlook is important. Complete coverage of crop forecasts and price supports appear in this Newspaper as changes take place.

Fairbury Woman Succumbs At 99

Fairbury — Jefferson County's oldest resident—99-year-old Mrs. Louisa Starr—died Thursday night at a local nursing home.

Mrs. Starr came to Nebraska from Mills County Iowa in 1870 and 9 years later moved to the Fairbury area. Her husband, Pete D. Starr was a Civil War veteran.

Funeral arrangements are pending.

SAC Visit Scheduled

Omaha (AP) — President Eisenhower's deputy assistant, Robert E. Merriam will tour the Strategic Air Command headquarters here Friday. Merriam is a brother of John Merriam of Omaha, president of the Northern Natural Gas Company.

TEXAS GETS COTTON SPOT

Lackey Leads Longhorns By Rugged A&M, 20-17

College Station, Tex. (AP) — Bobby Lackey, Texas' man in the clutch, piloted the Longhorns to an incredible 20-17 victory over Texas A&M Thursday to give Texas a tie for the Southwest Conference championship and host spot in the Cotton Bowl.

The lowly Aggies, fighting like demons, led Texas at the half 10-0 as Randy Sims, seeing his first glory as an Aggie, scored all the points, 3 of them on a conference record-tying 52-yard field goal.

Texas came back in the 3rd period for a touchdown and passed for the conversion, then got another touchdown early in the 4th period to go ahead.

But the Aggies, with the great Charley Milstead leading the way, shot ahead again on a 49-yard drive.

Lackey In Charge

However, Lackey took over once more and sent Texas to the winning touchdown with only 2:20 left. He scored it himself with a 1-yard smash. His passing and leadership were the most important things in the Texas triumph.

The victory tied Texas with Arkansas with 5-1 conference records. Texas Christian will tie if it beats Southern Methodist Saturday. But Texas has been out of the Cotton Bowl the longest, and gets the host spot — which goes to the Southwest Conference champion.

Texas wound up the season with a 9-1 record and will play Syracuse in the Cotton Bowl. Scouts Rocco Pirro and Joe Szombathy of the mighty Orange were in the stands to see the game—one of the finest in the 66-year history of this storied series, oldest in the Southwest.

Greatest Upset

Had the Aggies won it would have been one of the great upsets of conference history and it looked as though they might do it, even with only seconds to go as Milstead sent the Aggies deep into Texas territory with his passing.

But Bobby Gurwitz intercepted a Milstead throw at the Texas goal line and that ended it with only a few seconds left.

Sims, the chunky little fellow who has heretofore been known mostly for his pass-catching, made the touchdown in the first half, kicked the extra point and then the tremendous field goal—it tied the alltime record kick set by Joe Pasqua of Southern Methodist in 1938 although it wasn't actually as long.

In those days the field goals were measured to the goal line. Now they are measured to the goal posts.

WSC Aerials Drop Houston

Houston (AP)—The Washington State Cougars rode the passing arms of 3 quarterbacks and the lightning dashes of halfback Keith Lincoln to come from a first-half deficit and thrash the University of Houston 32-18 in an intersectional football game Thursday.

Lincoln, a 205-pounder from Monrovia, Calif., had a brilliant afternoon, carrying the ball 16 times for 153 yards.

Tosses by Mike Agee, Mel Melin and Bruce Ellingsen and circus catches by end Gail Cogdill before a crowd of about 6,000 proved too much for the inadequate Houston anti-aircraft works.

Cogdill took one over his shoulder from Melin on a 61-yard touchdown play and another for 21 from Agee.

Houston's Jim Kuehne raced 40 yards to put the Texas Cougars ahead briefly in the second period.

The battle with two gangs both named the Cougars left Missouri Valley Conference member Houston with a 3-7 season record. Washington State wound up the season with 6 victories against only 4 defeats.

With 6:56 left in the game, Melin faded back from the Washington 35 and lofted one to Cogdill on the 39. The speedy left end took it on the fly and never faltered.

The play topped off an aerial circus which saw the visitors mark up 8 points in each quarter. Washington State held a 16-12 halftime edge, going ahead after Kuehne's long scamper.

SHRINE TILT SET AUG. 20

The date for the second annual Shrine Bowl game for Nebraska high school football stars has been set.

Saturday, Aug. 20, 1960 has been agreed on with the game to be played at the University of Nebraska's Memorial Stadium.

No decision has been reached on whether the game will be day or night.

Underdog No. Carolina Massacres Duke 50-0

. . . Klochak Leads Shocking Tar Heel Upset

Durham, N.C. (AP) — Fullback Don Klochak scored two touchdowns, one on a brilliant 93 yard kickoff return, as underdog North Carolina unleased a devastating attack to crush rival Duke, 50-0 here Thursday.

The defeat was the worst in Duke's football history. It also was North Carolina's widest margin over the Blue Devils in their 46-game series. A national television audience and a Duke stadium crowd of 33,000 watched the debacle.

The Tar Heels wound up with a 5-5 season record, while Duke finished 4-6.

North Carolina, a 4-point underdog, combined a stout defense, the passing and running of quarterback Jack Cummings, and Klochak, to score twice in each of the first 3 periods, and once in the final quarter.

Klochak, 234-pound senior of Fairhope, Pa., took the second half kickoff on his 7-yard line and went all the way down the sidelines to score standing.

In the second period, Klochak rammed over from the 1-yard line after guard Frank Riggs had recovered a Duke fumble on the Blue Devils' 22.

The Tar Heels twice on sustained drives of 56 and 69 yards, and turned an intercepted pass and another recovered fumble into touchdowns.

Reserve fullback George Knox shook loose for a 32-yard fourth period run for the final touchdown.

RUSSELL DUEL WITH WILT OFF

Philadelphia (AP) — Bill Russell, star center for the Boston Celtics of the National Basketball Assn., was sidelined Thursday night, disappointing some 12,000 fans who jammed Convention Hall to see his duel with the Philadelphia Warriors' Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain.

It was the first scheduled local appearance for 6-10 Russell this season.

Russell, who played against the 7-1 Chamberlain Wednesday night in Boston where Philadelphia won 123-113, suffered a recurrence of a strained ligament in his left ankle.

—Penn Wins Ivy Crown—

Quaker Rally Trips Cornell

Philadelphia (AP)—Second string quarterback George Koval pulled Penn from a two touchdown deficit Thursday throwing 3 scoring passes in a 28-13 win over traditional rival Cornell and giving the Quakers the 1959 Ivy League football championship.

The victory gave Penn a 7-1-1 record, its best in 6 years under head coach Steve Sebo who may be departing the Penn scene despite the fine season. It also gave Penn its best mark since it had 7 wins and a tie in 1947.

Koval shared the limelight with All-Ivy League halfback Fred Doelling and Capt. Barney Berlinger, a tremendous offensive and defensive end all day.

Until early in the 3rd period Penn appeared beaten and demoralized as Marcy Tino, Dave McKelvey and George Telesh led the Big Red to a 13-0 lead.

Then, the next 3 times Penn got the ball it marched 55, 75 and 50 yards with Kobal throwing scoring passes on the end of each drive.

The Quakers added a 4th touchdown when Cornell gambled on 4th down losing the ball on its own 5 yard line. John Terpak carried over in two thrusts. Ed Shaw booted his 4th straight conversion to complete the scoring.

Koval's touchdown passes went 13 yards to fullback Jack Hanlon, 27 yards to Berliner and 8 yards to end Bill Kesack.

Cornell tallied on a 4 yard pass from McKelvey to end Ken Hoffman, and a 37 yard aerial from Tino to end John Sadusky.

Fall Down Stairs Kills Ski Jumper

Trondheim, Norway (AP) — Anders Woldseth, who risked death for sport as Norway's ski jumping champion, died Thursday after falling down a flight of stairs.

Doctors believe that severe head injuries the 25-year-old ace suffered on a skiing spill last winter may have contributed to his death.

VMI Passes To Southern Title, 37-12

Roanoke, Va. (AP)—Quarterback Skippy Dyer, a nerveless jack-of-all-trades, demoralized favored Virginia Tech in the air and on the ground here Thursday as he led VMI's upstart Keydets to a smashing 37-12 victory and the Southern Conference football championship.

The 183-pound junior signal caller from Greenville, Miss., passed for 3 touchdowns, set up a 4th with an aerial and scored a 5th as the Keydets—supposedly in a rebuilding season—overwhelmed the Gobblers in the 55th "Military Classic of the South."

A capacity crowd of 27,500 in Victory Stadium looked on almost unbelievingly as the alert Keydets intercepted 6 Tech aerials, two in the opening period touching off VMI scoring drives.

Dyer passed 29 years to end Dick Evans for the first on a fourth-and-12 situation. Fullback Sam Horner tallied the second after Dyer hit Evans with an 18-yard pass to the 2 on a 4th-and-16 situation.

He hit halfback John Traynham on a 32-yard scoring aerial in the second period when Traynham literally took the ball away from Tech quarterback Frank Eastman in the end zone.

In the 3rd period, Dyer hit Evans with another 29-yard scoring toss, Evans grabbing the ball after it bounced off Tech halfback Alger Pugh. Dyer, voted the game's outstanding player, capped his day with a one-yard sneak in the 3rd period.

The Keydets' 6th filched pass led to a late touchdown, scored on a 4-yard run by fullback Pat Morrison after halfback Don Kern reeled off a 53-yard run to the 4 with Pugh catching him from behind.

VMI finished with a 5-0-1 conference record and an 8-1-1 over-all mark, winning its last 7 games in a row. Tech was 3-1 and 6-4.

Packers Convert Lion Muffs, Triumph 24-17

Detroit (AP) — The Green Bay Packers cashed in on a rash of early mistakes, then hung on grimly Thursday for a 24-17 triumph over the Detroit Lions in a National Football League contest watched by 49,221 chilled spectators and a national television audience.

Quarterback Bart Starr's passing, rookie Boyd Dowler's receiving and Paul Hornung's running got the in-and-out Packers off to a 24-3 lead. Neither team scored in the dull second half.

The Lions, sputtering to their 7th defeat, fumbled away the ball 3 times in the first half and each time the Packers grabbed off some points.

Starr, who got into the lineup a few weeks ago when Lamar McHan was hurt—and now won't let McHan have his old job back—fired off 8 completions in 11 passes in the first half and Detroit never recovered.

The victory was the second this season over Detroit and marked the first time in a dozen years the Packers have swept the season series.

The Lions crept within one touchdown of the Packers but their final period attempts to extract a tie were killed off by a pair of interceptions.

Hornung, burly former Notre Dame great, scored all but 6 of the Packer points. He scored on runs of 6 and 11 yards, eluding would-be tacklers both times with dandy fakes, added 3 conversions and kicked a 39-yard field goal.

The Packers had to recover from some early jitters to gain the upper hand in the 9th Thanksgiving Day struggle between the two teams.

2ND GEM BOWL TO EAST, 17-16

Erie, Pa. (AP) — A 21-yard field goal by Bill Shockley of West Chester (Pa) Teachers made the difference Thursday as East beat West 17-16 in the second annual post season Gem Bowl All-Star football game.

Shockley found the uprights in the final seconds of the first half at a time when the West team was leading 16-14. The two teams played scoreless ball in the second half.

About 7,000 persons braved a chilling wind to watch the two teams battle on a muddy field. Ara Parseghian, of Northwestern University, coached the West team and Frank Reagan, Villanova athletic director, coached the East.

POINT BLANK

By Don Bryant

Sports Editor, The Star

Final Grid Fling

Still shaking from the effects of last week's selections (those were selections?) we head into the final big weekend of the 1959 college football season.

The Point Blank crystal ball was on the fritz last week, hitting a season-low percentage of .512 on 22 right and 21 wrong. CB failed to adjust to the fact this this has been one of the upsetting-est campaigns in memory.

At any rate, we'll dive for the wire with a season mark of 303 right, 123 wrong for .701.

Good night, Irene:

Big 8—Oklahoma 15, Oklahoma State 7 . . . Colorado 12, Air Force 6 (if Weidner's right.)

East—Army 19, Navy 7 . . . Holy Cross 25, Boston College 14.

South—Auburn 10, Alabama 6 . . . Miami 27, Florida 13 . . . Clemson 34, Furman 6 . . . Georgia 14, Georgia Tech 7 . . . Mississippi Southern 18, Louisiana Tech 0 . . . Mississippi 21, Mississippi State 8 . . . Tennessee 20, Vanderbilt 12 . . . Florida State 13, Tampa 0.

Southwest—Texas Christian 14, Southern Methodist 13 (but don't forget Meredith) . . . Baylor 24, Rice 16 . . . Arizona State 23, Arizona 8.

Far West—Southern California 17, Notre Dame 6 . . . UCLA 30, Utah 7.

The Aftermath

Was that just a bit of sour grapes showing when Jack Mitchell made his rather naive bid for a spring practice session in the winter?

The Kansas coach reportedly wanted to start 3-a-week practices right away, stating:

"Missouri is going to practice for a month, why can't we?"

The answer to that one is simple: Because Missouri beat Kansas. If the Jayhawks would have beaten the Tigers, Mitchell could have drilled his troops. As it is, the Tigers will do the December practicing—for whatever that's worth.

Since I know from experience—Kansas has beaten Nebraska the past two years—that Jack can be big in victory, I'm surprised he shrunk a little after the Missouri squeaker.

Same Song

Speaking of that game, Kansans now claim that movies prove John Hadl actually scored late in the game, but that the officials gyped them out a cinch tie and a possible win.

This has been a bad year for the striped shirt set. Judging from the howls that have been sent up each week, the officials have lost more games than all the players together.

Maybe the NCAA will have to set up a record bureau for officials—most calls goofed one game, season; most red flags tossed one game, season; most coins lost on flip, etc.

Is Nothing Sacred?

Testifying to the fierce rivalry between Kansas and Missouri—and the high blood pressure involved—is this excerpt from a Lawrence scribe's column after the Tigers beat KU:

"The MU players carried Coach Dan Devine off the field after the game, but only after Assistant Harry Smith had done an organization job the final minutes. Smith was running around grabbing player after player and telling him to get on the job as soon as the game ended. Maybe it would've happened anyway, but Harry wasn't taking any chances."

Wichita Smashes Tulsans By 26-21

Wichita, Kan. (AP) — Dick Young's forward passing and the running of Ted Dean were too much for Tulsa University Thursday as Wichita stood off the Hurricane during the second half for a 26-21 football upset.

The defeat knocked Tulsa out of a 3-way tie for the championship of the Missouri Valley Conference. North Texas and Houston with 3 victories and one loss each share the conference title.

Dean scored Wichita's first touchdown at the end of a 52-yard march in the first period and crossed for another in the second on a short plunge through the line.

Young's 34-yard pass to Jacques Anderson was instrumental in the first Wichita touchdown drive.

A pass interception set up a 3rd touchdown and gave Wichita a 20-6 halftime lead. Orval Craig pulled down one of Jerry Keeling's passes on the Tulsa 35 and ran it to the 11. Wichita scored in 3 plays, Dick Johnson making the final 8 yards.

The second half was mostly Tulsa's. The Hurricane swept to touchdowns in each of the two quarters, although Wichita forged to a 26-6 lead before the Tulsans got underway.

Tulsa took the kickoff and marched 61 yards in 14 plays featured by Keeling's passing and David White's off tackle smashes. White got the touchdown on a 2-yard plunge.

Tulsa scored again in the 4th quarter on a 7-yard march in another 14-play sortie. Keeling's pass to Joe Cheap was the payoff.

Tulsa's first touchdown was a 42-yard 4 play maneuver that ended with Bob Brumble making the final yard.

Bribe Try Failure As Youths Star

Bangor, Pa. (AP) — Bangor High School's football squad, whose two star tackles were offered bribes to play subpar ball, Thursday trounced traditional rival Pen Argyl 20-0.

The tackles, Duane LeBar and Ron Mack, both 6 feet and weighing over 210 pounds, told police they were approached last Saturday night by a short, stout man and offered $100 to "play under their best." Both said they immediately rejected the offer.

During the game, Bangor's line, anchored by LeBar and Mack, gave up only 9 yards rushing. Pen Argyl picked up another 50 yards on passes.

Bangor's coach Dave Pritchard, in commenting on the performances of LeBar and Mack said:

"They were by far the outstanding linemen on the field. They proved they were interested in nothing but winning. The incident made the team mad and the boys were really up for the game."

Pritchard started the 18-year-old linemen and kept them in the game the entire 48 minutes.

Miteff Gets 2nd Chance At Hunter

New York (AP)—Alex Miteff hopes to wipe out one of the blots on his record tonight in Madison Square Garden. He gets another chance at Billy Hunter, the Detroit heavyweight who stopped him in 7 rounds Sept. 25 in Syracuse.

Hunter, of course, has other ideas. He is a fast-rising young man in the division at the moment. The TKO over Miteff, followed by another TKO over Tony Anthony gave Billy ideas about going all the way.

With Ingemar Johansson now fencing around about his next opponent in defense of his heavyweight title, all the big boys are anxious to keep in the running.

The Friday fight is part of the regular network (NBC) radio-TV series, starting at

NAIA Completes Playoff Field

Kansas City (AP) — The National Assn. of Intercollegiate Athletics completed selection of teams for its football playoffs Dec. 5.

Lenoir Rhyne of Hickory, N.C., the last to be selected, will host Southern Connecticut State College in the Eastern Division, and Hillsdale, Mich., College will play Texas College of Arts and Industries at Kingsville, Tex., in the western end.

Winners of the two playoffs meet in the Holiday Bowl in St. Petersburg, Fla., on Dec. 19 for the NAIA championship.

GOATS LOSE, WILL ARMY?

West Point, N.Y. (AP)—The Engineers downed the Goats 14-0 to predict trouble for the Army football varsity against Navy in Philadelphia Saturday.

The annual Thanksgiving game, played for the 39th time between the upper 10 per cent (Engineers) and the lower 10 per cent (Goats) of the Army junior class, has been used as a guide to the winner in the big clash. The saying is, "as the goats go, so goes Army."

Colgate Shocks Old Rival, 33-14

Providence, R.I. (AP) — Colgate's football team atoned for a dismal season Thursday by whipping rival Brown 33-14 on a sunny cold field.

The once feared Red Raiders from the Valley of the Chenango shocked the home Bruins with a pair of first period touchdowns and went on from there, rolling up a 20-0 lead before Brown could score a touchdown near the end of the first half.

Colgate, coached by Al Kelley who a year ago was Brown's coach, outgained the home Bruins on the ground 266 yards to 106. Brown had a 146-71 yard advantage by air in its losing Turkey Day battle.

Jacque MacKinnon, a 6-4 sophomore end from Dover, N.J., and Bernie Dailey, a Gouverneur, N.H., senior fullback, got Colgate off and running. MacKinnon intercepted a Brown pass on his 35 early in the first period and lugged it to the 49.

On the next play Dailey was sprung loose on a trap and went all the way for Colgate's first touchdown.

Dailey added two more touchdowns and Herman Brauch and Fred Holmes scored the others.

Roger Cirone and Jim Bower scored Brown's touchdowns, both on passes from Jack Rohrbach.

A shivering 8,000 crowd saw Colgate win its 20th victory in this 41st game between these rivals. Brown had won 14 and there have been 7 ties.

CAWN'T DO THAT SORT OF THING

London (AP)—A fashionable country club was stuck with a thorny issue — an application for membership by a 9-year-old boy.

He is Edmund Lowe, a wizard golfer.

"He's a wonderful golfer all right," said club secretary David Rush, "but I'm afraid we're going to have to turn him down. He's far too young."

The club is the Batchwood Hall Golf Club at nearby St. Albans.

"It's not because he's too young," the boy's father, Job Lowe, told reporters. "It's snobbery, plus the fact the members are afraid a child might beat them."

Navy Grid Boss After Top Effort

Annapolis, Md. (AP) — Coach Wayne Hardin is trying to convince his Navy football players if they'll just play their best for every minute Saturday they can beat Army in Philadelphia.

"Last year, I felt they had to play above their capacities to have a chance to win since Army was undefeated," Hardin said. Army won 22-6.

"But this year, since Army has been beaten 3 times, if our boys will play the entire game they're capable of, they have a very good chance for an upset," Hardin said.

Army Busy Preparing For Tricks

West Point, N.Y., (AP)— Navy surprised Army with its "Jitterburg" line in 1957. Last year the Middies threw the Cadets off stride in the first half with a double wing and a new spread.

Dale Hall, the new Army coach, hopes his boys will be ready to cope with anything Saturday in Philadelphia.

"Everybody has been using those trick formations," said Hall. "We have our B squad set up the most outlandish things we can imagine and then we try to get used to it."

Hall rates as an authority on Navy football. He scouted them for 3 years, seeing them play 6 or 7 games each year, when he was an assistant under Red Blaik.

"I thought Navy should be a better club this year than it was last. They have had a lot of near misses that have kept them from being a great team," Hall said.

"One thing is obvious. They don't have any (Bob) Reifsnyder but they are a good defensive team. The only time they looked bad was against Syracuse."

Hall hopes to get more balance into his attack that has leaned heavily on Joe Caldwell's passing (99 completions in 165 passes).

"Unless Bob Anderson's leg locks they can't overlook our running game. I fully expect a fine game out of Bob at this stage." he said.

He feels that Navy's so-so record of 4-4-1 could have been much better if the team had not let down in spots. However, he also said he had "never seen Navy play as well and lose as it did to Southern Methodist and Notre Dame."

Quarterback Joe Tranchini figures the SMU game was the turning point of the season. If Navy had won, he believes it would have gone on to more success.

Navy met SMU after beating Boston College and William & Mary. The Middies did a lot of attacking, but little scoring. They were on their way to the tying touchdown when SMU returned an intercepted pass for a touchdown and a 20-7 victory.

Navy then lost to Syracuse and Miami, was tied by Penn and dropped a 25-22 decision to Notre Dame.

Besides hoping they'll play their best all the way against Army, Coach Hardin is going to use his best most of the time.

"We've been getting away from the two-platoon gradually and in this game will even more so," Hardin said. "We're planning to utilize only our best personnel. After all, there's no tomorrow after Army."

The only major change Hardin is making in his starting lineup, however, is Frank Dattilo.

Russ Gals Win

New York (AP)—The Russian women's national basketball team opened the Soviets' tour of the United States Thursday night with a 42-40 victory over the United States at Madison Square Garden.

Cincy Uses Boots For 14-7 Win

Cincinnati (AP) — Taking advantage of two big errors, the University of Cincinnati football team Thursday defeated Miami of Ohio, 14-7, as its quarterback Jackie Lee moved to second place in national standing in pass completions.

He completed 16 passes for 185 yards in 31 attempts. That brought his season total to 131 completions and 1,535 yards in 232 tries and put him ahead of Pete Hall of Marquette.

The Bearcats scored their first touchdown when interference was called on Bill Triplett as Ed Kovac tried to catch a long pass from Lee on the 2 yard line in the second period. Kovac then went over right tackle for the touchdown.

Red Willow Cage Stock Takes Tumble

McCook — Red Willow has only 4 lettermen back from last year's Class D basketbal champions, and none of them was a regular.

Lamoine Carmichael is the new Zephyr coach. Lettermen are Ronnie Hanthorn, David Lindsey, Dick Reiners and Mike Milbauer. Dennis Wudtke, a 6-2 freshman, is the only player on the roster standing over 6 feet tall.

Dec. 1—Palisade; 8—Edison; 11—at Arapahoe; 15—Wilsonville; 17—Trenton; Jan. 2—at Stratton; 12—Beaver Valley; 15—Bartley; 19—at Farnam; 22—at Indianola; Feb. 2—at Wauneta; 5—at Bartley; 9—Indianola; 12—at Holbrook.

Purdue Gridders Hurt In Crash

Charleston, W.Va. (AP)—Two University of Purdue football players were injured Thursday in a two-car collision that resulted in the death of two persons and injury to 4 others.

The tragedy took place on U.S. 60 highway, several miles east of Charleston.

Emory Turner, a Purdue senior and varsity guard, suffered a broken right leg, facial cuts and head injuries. He was reported in good condition. Turner was drafted earlier this week by Dallas of the newly formed American Football League.

Henry Jackson, voted last week the outstanding lineman on the Purdue freshman team, sustained a compound tracture of the right ankle and a broken left leg.

'Arctic Tramp' May Fill Bill As Huskies' Mascot

Fairbanks, Alaska (AP)—A beautiful MacKenzie River husky dog, that once attacked a polar bear and saved the life of an Air Force man, was offered to the University of Washington Thursday as an emergency mascot for the Rose Bowl football game.

The powerful dog, still bearing scars from his encounter with the enraged bear, currently is an Air Force sled dog on Ice Island T-3, now floating in the Arctic Ocean 100 miles off Alaska's northern coast.

Washington's search for a new mascot started when the present mascot, Denali, didn't grow into the sharp-eared, furry-faced, curly-tailed husky the students thought he would.

Denali, a mixture of Malemute and Eskimo dog, grew into a droopy-eared, droopy-tailed, short-haired pooch.

Hardly a worthy mascot for the Rose Bowl game.

The Air Force, in offering its dog, "Arctic Tramp," said it wanted the dog back once the Rose Bowl game has been played. But the Air Force said it would give one of Arctic Tramp's sons, born on the Ice Island scientific base two months ago, to the UW as a permanent mascot.

Brig. Gen. Gordon Austin, commander of the 11th Air Division in Alaska, said the Air Force would be willing to send along as Arctic Tramp's handler M.Sgt. Charles Young of Tulare, Calif.

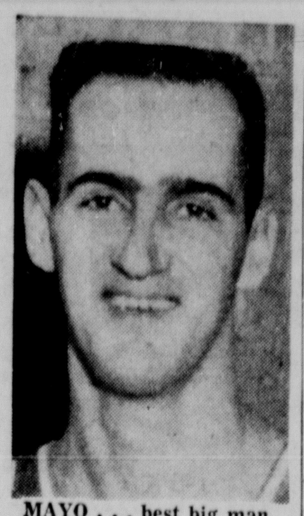
Playmaker Alfrey Heads Louisville Returnees



MAYO . . . best big man.

Louisville — Floor dazzler Doug Alfrey is the top man of 5 returning lettermen from Louisville's Class C championship team.

Other lettermen include 6-2 senior Jerry Luken, Robert Wiesneth, Leroy Voightman and Terry Janusz.

Dec. 1—Springfield; 11—Elkhorn; 12—at Mead; 15—at Seward Concordia; 18—at Weeping Water; Jan. 5—at Syracuse; 9—Millard; 12—at Gretna; 15—at Papillion; 26—Johnson; 29—Bishop Ryan; Feb. 16—Pawnee City; 20—Ashland.

Valparaiso Boasts Five Returnees

Valparaiso — Coach Ron Powers has 5 returning lettermen to face the Husker 8 Conference chase this season at Valparaiso.

Lloyd Hellerich, a 6-2 two-year letterman, is the top returnee. Others are Ernie Osmera, Grant Schlotman, Jim Blazek and Jerry Lawton.

Dec. 1—at Walton; 4—Cedar Bluffs; 8—at Fremont St. Pat; 11—at Milford; 18—Waverly; Jan. 8—Malcolm; 12—Prague; 15—Mead; 18-20—Husker 8 at Wahoo; 26—Yutan; 27—at Waterloo; Feb. 2-5—Saunders County at Wahoo; 9—Weston; 12—Ceresco (at Wahoo); 19—Dwight Assumption.

Kearney Hopes To Better Mark

Kearney—With 5 lettermen, Kearney hopes to improve its 5-13 record of last year under new coach Bob Erickson.

Erickson had several successful seasons at Crete before moving to Kearney.

Bill Behn, 6-5 junior who improved rapidly last season, heads the returning lettermen. Others are Jerry Denton, Joe Greeno, Dick Lammers and Gary Stickney.

Dec. 4—at Northeast; 11—at Minden; 18—at Scottsbluff; 19—at Alliance; Jan. 8—Cozad; 9—Grand Island; 15—McCook; 16—Scottsbluff; 22—North Platte; 23—at Hastings; 29—Holdrege; 30—Alliance; Feb. 5—at McCook; 12—at North Platte; 19—at Gothenburg; 26—Lexington.

Transfers Boost Fairbury Hopes

Fairbury—A trio of transfers has boosted the cage hopes of Fairbury, under new coach Dick Jennings, this season.

The transfers are brothers Jim and Jack Morgan, from Moline, Ill. Jim is a 6-4½ junior, who lettered at Moline, while Jack is a 5-7 sophomore. The other transfer is Tom Kelly, 6-3½ senior who lettered at Oscoda, Mich.

Four returning letter-winners from Fairbury are 6-6 Lonnie Davis, Lynn Wolford, Wendell Uldrich and Barry Denney.

Dec. 4—at Marysville, Kan.; 11—Plattsmouth; 12—Bellevue; Jan. 5—Crete; 12—at Geneva; 15—at Falls City; 22—York; 25—Seward; 29—Hastings; Feb. 5—at Nebraska City; 6—Southeast; 16—at Hebron; 19—Northeast; 23—at Beatrice.

Don Katt Powers Malcolm Veterans

Fisher Gone, But 6 Returns At Tobias

Tobias — Jim Fisher, all-state star, has departed from Tobias' Class E basketball champs, but 6 other lettermen return to coach William Padgett.

Back are Lynn Smith, Gordon Steinbrook, Merrill Sokolik, George Roesler, Don Rut and Myron Simacek.

Dec. 1—Bruning; 4—Swanton; 9—Alexandria; 11—Shickley; 15—at Wilber; 18—at Western; 22—Hardy; Jan. 8—at Clatonia; 19—Dorchester; 22—at Milligan; 30—DeWitt; Feb. 2—at Daykin; 5—at Plymouth; 16—Diller; 19—at Ohiowa.

Dorchester Still Has Open Cage Dates

Dorchester — Coach W. L. Story would still like to fill some of 5 open dates on his basketball schedule this year. Dates are Dec. 8-15, Jan. 5, Feb. 2-9.

Story has 4 starters back from last year's 17-5 team, with Jim Heeren, Vern Johnson, Wayne Howlett and Dan Palky, plus Dan Tesar.

Dec. 4—Western; 11—at Plymouth; 18—at Beaver Crossing; Jan. 8—Milligan; 11-15—Cloverleaf; 19—at Tobias; 22—Diller; 26—Friend; 29—at Shickley; Feb. 5—at Milford; 12—at Exeter; 16—Ohiowa; 19—DeWitt.

Nannen, Brandt Back For Rockets

Syracuse—Neil Nannen and Bruce Brandt, both regulars on last year's Class B basketball champions, are among 6 returning lettermen to coach Ron Wagner.

Nannen is 6-4, Brandt 6-0. Also back are Steve Davis, Rich Kuenning, Don Thomson and Gary Witt.

Dec. 8—Weeping Water; 11—at Waverly; 15—at Humboldt; 19—at Papillion; Jan. 5—Louisville; 8—Palmyra; 12—at Seward Concordia; 15—Pawnee City; 19-22—Southeast Border at Auburn; 26—at Wymore 29—Auburn Feb. 2 at Tecumseh 5 — Omaha Cathedral; 8-12—Southeast 8 at Papillion.

Peru Could Be First With 3 Straight Titles

Lincoln Star Special

Peru — Big Jack McIntire's Peru cagers could be the first in the Nebraska College Conference to cop 3 straight titles.

The Bobcats shared the bunting with Chadron and Hastings in 1958, then soloed with a 15-3 conference mark a year ago.

Basketball Renaissance

They lost out to Nebraska Wesleyan for a berth in the NAIA tournament of champions in Kansas City.

McIntire, a Peru alum, has effected a basketball renaissance on the Campus of a Thousand Oaks in his 3 seasons there.

His 1956-57 aggregation won only 9 of 23, but since then the marks have been 20-7 and 23-5.

The mentor has enough size and experience to be booked as a favorite in the league chase again this season.

Lose Only Two

Losses are post man Bob Smith and guard Jon Appleget.

Mayo, Brooklyn, N.Y. lad by way of the University of Nebraska, is 6-8 and a returning Sunday Journal and Star NCC pick.

His credentials include a soft hook shot and rebounding prowess. He's the best big man in the conference.

Roach Backcourt Ace

Johnson and Roach are also transfers from Nebraska. Johnson, 6-5, was a regular forward with the championship team last year.

Roach, from Palmyra, roamed the backcourts with Appleget.

Francis, 6-2, is the other forward. It's his 4th campaign with the Bobcats.

Additional height is present in the form of newcomers Bob Buettgenbach (6-8) and Jim Mayo (6-7), Bob's brother.

Way To Travel

Peru backers acknowledge the potential of Coach McIntire's club but also know it has a distance to go before equalling the 1959 club's mark.

The Bobcats opened Tuesday with a 77-58 win over the alumni. Remainder of the schedule:

Dec. 1—Tarkio (Mo.) 7—at Dana. 8—Omaha. 11—at Tarkio. 14—at Doane. 17-19—NAIA pre-season tourney, Nashville, Tenn. 29-30—Four-State tourney, Falls City.

Jan. 5—Nebraska Wesleyan. 9—Concordia. 15—at Kearney State (Ord). 16—at Hastings. 23—Doane. 29—at Wayne State. 30—at Midland.

Feb. 2—Dana. 5-6—Chadron State. 12—Wayne Staet. 13—Kearney State. 16—at Nebraska Wesleyan. 20—at Concordia. 25—Midland. 26—Hastings.

Gagne Tops Pershing Tag Team Lineup

One of this area's favorite pro grapplers—Vern Cagne—will headline Promoter Jack Pesek's Pershing Auditorium card next Tuesday night.

Cagne, the former Minnesota football star who went on to win fame—and the world's title—as a wrestler, will team with Omaha veteran Ernie Dusek in a tag team match.

Their opponents will be a pair of tough Japanese battlers—Mitsu Arakawa and Kinji Shibuya.

This main event will be a two-of-three fall, 60 minute limit affair.

Pesek has lined up a pair of young ladies for the semi-windup, Indian Princess Tona Toma vs. Rose Roman, a two-of-three, 45-minute bout.

Also on the card will be a 30-minute scrap between Doug (Body Beautiful) Gilbert and Jarring Jack O'Riley. The opener for the 8:30 p.m. show will pit Al Spindola against Jerry Christy.

Wyoming Demolishes Hapless Denver 45-0

Denver, (AP) — Wyoming's Skyline Conference football champions demolished Denver 45-0 Thursday with a precision offense that clicked off 4 touchdowns in the first quarter.

Sharp downfield blocking cleared the way for touchdown trips of 79 yards by halfback Jerry Hill and 72 yards by Dick Behning on punt returns in the first quarter blast by the Cowboys.

Denver's demoralized Pioneers, finishing with a 2-won, 8-lost record, late in the second period reached Wyomings 9 on end Caesar D'Urso's neat catch of a 35-yard pass from quarterback Normand Trinque.

But a Cowboy interception on the next play ended that deepest penetration by the Pioneers.

Wyoming, beaten only by the Air Force in 10 games, received the opening kickoff in 25-degree weather before 10,295 fans and zipped to a touchdown in 7 plays.

The march was featured by quarterback Jim Walden's pass on a fake quick kick that connected with fullback Jim Cole for a 41-yard gain.

20th Century Moves Into Brownville

By Dean Terrill
Southeast Nebraska Bureau

Brownville — The bluffs may cry out in protest, but this town that is famed for its oldness appears in for a small-scale building boom.

Tradition notwithstanding, one brand new house is nearly completed and its bright green paint stands out sharply against the antiquated buildings around it. What's more the town that boasts it is 105 years old will have to give in to the progress of 3 other new homes now in various stages of planning or building.

"I can only remember two other new buildings in the 33 years I've lived here," said Charles Clifton, a carnival owner who is helping his son with the new green home. "The last new house in Brownville was built right after the war."

The son, Richard Clifton, said he had little trouble choosing Brownville for a home site.

'Only Place'

"I've been all over the country with the carnival and in construction work, and this is the only place that seems like home," he remarked.

The pair doesn't believe that new construction has been slow because of any deference to Brownville as a historic spot. They say it "really would build up" if supply. As it is, citizens depend upon their own wells and in some parts of town it is practically impossible to dig producing wells.

Others who are about to be new home-owners in the town of 360 are Dick Hartell, Harry Osborne and Alfred Hummell.

Is there any chance the new houses will be built along traditional lines, just for the sake of history?

Well, there may be a bit of history in Clifton's at least—or they may say so in another 105 years. It is probably the first house in Brownville with electrical heating.

Dr. Barber Named To Annual Confab

Hastings — Dr. Elinor Barber, associate professor of music at Hastings College, will represent the college at the 35th meeting of the National Association of Schools of Music in Detroit Saturday.

The meeting marks the annual gathering of executive and administrative heads of the music departments of leading universities, colleges and conservatories in the U.S.

Disposal Plant Survey Started At Broken Bow

Broken Bow (AP)—City Engineer Bart Hickey has reported to the Broken Bow City Council that a survey has begun on need for a new sewage disposal plant.

Present sewage disposal facilities in Broken Bow are described as inadequate and backers of a new plant note that federal funds are available for such construction.

ORDINANCE NO. 7044

AN ORDINANCE declaring the erection of snow fences to be for the protection and promotion of the public welfare and safety; providing for the erection of snow fences on private or public property adjacent to public ways within the city between October 15 and April 1; authorizing the Director of Public Works and Utilities to erect such snow fences; providing for the payment of damages to private property resulting from the erection and removal of such snow fences; and providing a penalty for the violation of the provisions of this ordinance.

BE IT ORDAINED by the City Council of the City of Lincoln, Nebraska:

Section 1. It is hereby declared to be for the protection and promotion of the public welfare and safety that snow fences be erected and maintained within the limits of the City of Lincoln, between October 15 and April 1, at such locations as are determined to be necessary in order to keep the public ways sufficiently clear of snow and ice so as to be reasonably safe for travel.

Section 2. The Director of Public Works and Utilities, through the Street Department, shall have the authority to enter upon private or public property adjacent to any city street and to place and maintain thereon snow fences wherever it is deemed necessary in order to prevent snow drifting on the traveled portion of such street. Such snow fences shall be erected in such a manner as to provide the most protection to the street and shall not be placed on such property prior to October 15, nor remain on such property after April 1, without the consent of the property owner. In case of any damage to such property, the City shall pay the amount of such damage to the owner of property.

Section 3. It shall be unlawful for any person to destroy or damage any such snow fence installed and erected as provided by law.

Section 4. Any person who shall refuse to allow any city employee access to any lands or lots for the purpose of installing, maintaining or removing any snow fences, or any person who shall violate any other provisions of this ordinance, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be fined in any sum not to exceed $100.00, or punished by imprisonment in the city jail for a period of not to exceed six months together with costs of prosecution, and shall stand committed to the city jail until such fine and costs of prosecution are paid. Each day that a violation of this ordinance continues shall constitute a separate and distinct offense and shall be punishable as such.

Section 5. This ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage and publication according to law.

Introduced by C. W. D. Kinsey.
Passed: November 23, 1959.

AN ORDINANCE amending Section 7 of Ordinance No. 4626 passed August 29, 1949, as amended by Ordinance No. 6843, passed November 17, 1958, regulating rates and charges for natural gas service and repealing said Section 7 of Ordinance No. 4626, passed August 29, 1949, as amended by Ordinance No. 6843 passed November 17, 1958.

BE IT ORDAINED by the City Council of the City of Lincoln, Nebraska:

Section 1. That Section 7 of Ordinance No. 4626, passed August 29, 1949, as amended by Ordinance No. 6843, passed November 17, 1958, be and it hereby is amended to read as follows:

"Section 7. RATES AND CHARGES. In consideration of this grant and as one of the covenants and conditions thereof, Grantee agrees, for and in behalf of itself, its lessees, successors and assigns, that from and after the effective date hereof and during the entire term hereof, it will provide two classes of service for its customers to be known as "Firm Gas Service" and "Interruptible Gas Space Heating Service" and that it will not charge, collect or receipt for natural "Firm Gas Service" in said City or territory under its jurisdiction, effective with meter reading periods beginning on and after December 27, 1959, without prior approval of the City Council, to exceed the following rates and charges, as set forth in Schedule I hereof:

SCHEDULE I—FIRM GAS SERVICE.

Firm Gas Service. "Firm Gas Service" is defined as gas service that is supplied on a non-interruptible basis. Firm gas service shall be available to all domestic and commercial customers whose maximum requirements are less than 1,000 cubic feet per hour; provided that this limitation shall not apply to the present use of existing firm gas users.

Availability. This service shall be available only to domestic and commercial customers whose maximum requirements for natural gas is less than 1,000 cubic feet per hour. The Grantee shall not be required to provide firm gas service to any customer whose maximum requirements amount to 1,000 cubic feet or more per hour.

Rate.

First 600 cubic feet or less used per month—One and 50-100 ($1.50) dollars;

Next 1,400 cubic feet used per month—One and 18-100 ($1.18) dollars per 1,000 cubic feet;

Next 3,000 cubic feet used per month—Ninety-four cents (94c) per 1,000 cubic feet;

Next 5,000 cubic feet used per month—Eighty-four cents (84c) per 1,000 cubic feet;

Next 40,000 cubic feet used per month—Seventy-six cents (76c) per 1,000 cubic feet;

Next 50,000 cubic feet used per month—Seventy-four cents (74c) per 1,000 cubic feet;

Excess over 100,000 cubic feet used per month—Seventy-three cents (73c) per 1,000 cubic feet.

Minimum Monthly Bill—$1.50 which includes the use of 600 cubic feet of gas.

Gas Cost Adjustment

a. Northern's Docket G-12153 (Rate Case #6)

As the result of an application filed and now pending with the Federal Power Commission (Commission), Docket G-12153 (Rate Case #6), Northern Natural Gas Company (Northern), wholesale supplier of natural gas, was permitted to increase its wholesale gas price to Central Electric & Gas Company (Central), the distributor of natural gas, on August 27, 1957. Such increased price is being collected by Northern under refunding bond pending final determination by the Commission of the reasonableness of such increase. If the Commission orders Northern to refund to Central any monies collected under such refunding bond as a result of Docket G-12153 (Rate Case #6), Central agrees to make a "cost of gas" credit refund to its firm gas customers. The amount of such refund to each firm gas customer shall be computed by (1) dividing the total refund received from Northern allocable to firm gas purchased from Northern for resale in Lincoln, Nebraska between August 27, 1957, and the effective date of the final wholesale price resulting from Docket G-12153 (Rate Case No. 6) by the total number of MCF of firm gas billed by Central in Lincoln, Nebraska between August 27, 1957 and the effective date of the final wholesale price resulting from said Docket G-12153 (Rate Case #6), and (2) multiplying the resulting figure (cents per MCF) by the number of MCF of firm gas billed each firm gas customer from meter reading periods beginning on an after August 27, 1957, the date on which rates as provided in Ordinance #6617 were first charged, to the effective date of the final price resulting from said Docket G-12153 (Rate Case #6). Such refund shall be made to such firm gas customers within a reasonable time after receipt of Northern's refund.

b. Northern's Docket G-15335 (Rate Case #7).

As the result of a further application filed and now pending with the Federal Power Commission (Commission), Docket G-15335 (Rate Case #7), Northern Natural Gas Company (Northern), wholesale supplier of natural gas, was permitted to increase its wholesale gas price to Central Electric & Gas Company (Central), the distributor of natural gas, on November 27, 1958. Such increased price is being collected by Northern under refunding bond pending final determination by the Commission of the reasonableness of such increase. If the Commission orders Northern to refund to Central any monies collected under such refunding bond as a result of Docket G-15335 (Rate Case #7), Central agrees to make a "cost of gas" credit refund to its firm gas customers. The amount of such refund to each firm gas customer shall be computed by (1) dividing the total refund received from Northern allocable to firm gas purchased from Northern for resale in Lincoln, Nebraska, between November 27, 1958, and the effective date of the final wholesale price resulting from Docket G-15335 (Rate Case #7) by the total number of MCF of firm gas billed by Central in Lincoln between November 27, 1958, and the effective date of the final wholesale price resulting from said Docket G-15335 (Rate Case #7), and (2) multiplying the resulting figure (cents per MCF) by the number of MCF of firm gas billed each firm gas customer from meter reading periods beginning on and after November 27, 1958, the date on which rates as provided in Ordinance #6843 were first charged, to the effective date of the final wholesale price resulting from said Docket G-15335 (Rate Case No. 7). Such refund shall be made to Central's customers within a reasonable time after receipt of Northern's refund.

c. Northern's Docket G-19040 (Rate Case #8).

As the result of a further application filed and now pending with the Federal Power Commission (Commission), Docket G-19040 (Rate Case #8), Northern Naturdal Gas Company (Northern), wholesale supplier of natural gas, will again be permitted to increase its wholesale gas price to Central Electric & Gas Company (Central), the distributor of natural gas, on December 27, 1959. Such increased price will be collected by Northern under refunding bond pending final determination by the Commission of the reasonableness of such increase. If the Commission orders Northern to refund to Central any monies collected under such refunding bond as a result of Docket G-19040 (Rate Case #8), Central agrees to make a "cost of gas" credit refund to its firm gas customers. The amount of such refund to each firm gas customer shall be computed by (1) dividing the total refund received from Northern allocable to firm gas purchased from Northern for resale in Lincoln, Nebraska between December 27, 1959, and the effective date of the final wholesale price resulting from Docket G19040 (Rate Case #8) by the total number of MCF of firm gas billed by Central in Lincoln between December 27, 1959, and the effective date of the final wholesale price resulting from said Docket G-19040 (Rate Case #8), and (2) multiplying the resulting figure (Cents per MCF) by the number of MCF of firm gas billed each firm gas customer between the date on which rates as provided herein were first charged and the effective date of the final wholesale price resulting from said Docket G-19040 (Rate Case #8). Such refund shall be made to Central's customers within a reasonable time after receipt of Northern's refund.

SCHEDULE II — INTERRUPTIBLE GAS SPACE HEATING SERVICE.

"Interruptible Gas Space Heating Service" is defined as gas service that is supplied on an interruptible basis for space heating only. It shall be subject to curtailment or interruption on demand of The Grantee whenever necessary to protect the service of its firm gas customers.

Availability. Interruptible Gas Space Heating Service shall be available only on a contract basis to domestic or commercial customers for space heating, whose requirements for natural gas amount to 1,000 cubic feet or more per hour, and who install and maintain sufficient stand-by equipment and stand-by fuel to provide for their entire requirements during periods of curtailment of the use of natural gas by the Grantee in order to protect the service of its firm gas customers.

Penalty. The Grantee may charge and collect a penalty of Ten Dollars ($10.00) per 1,000 cubic feet for all gas used by any customer, during any period in which Grantee has requested discontinuance of the use of natural gas service to protect the gas service of its firm gas customers.

The above mentioned monthly rates shall apply to the combined reading of meter or meters, of each customer as though same were one meter, and there shall be only one meter per customer unless the customer desires to install more than one meter in which event the monthly service charge shall apply to each meter.

The above and foregoing rates shall be understood to apply and be based upon natural gas of the British Thermal Unit heating value of not less than nine hundred (900) British Thermal Units per cubic foot of gas, and in the event at any time the heating value of said gas shall fall below or be less than the minimum of nine hundred (900) British Thermal Units per cubic foot of gas, then and in that event the aforesaid rates shall be automatically, proportionately and correspondingly lowered and reduced during any period or periods of time in which any such gas of lower British Thermal Unit value shall be furnished.

Grantee further agrees that the rates herein mentioned shall remain and continue as the maximum rate schedule for natural gas service during the entire term of this grant unless altered or modified with the consent and approval of the City Council and that said rate schedule shall not be construed or understood to be a minimum rate schedule and if, as and when, during said period of time, production, operation and other operating conditions and business conditions justify, the Grantee will, from time to time, subject to the approval of the City authorities of the City of Lincoln, Nebraska, lower and reduce the aforesaid rates for natural gas service. Grantee further agrees that if, at any time during the term hereof, and in the lawful exercise of its regulatory power, the City authorities shall elect to change or alter said rates downward, they may do so.

The Grantee covenants and agrees that at no time during the term hereof and for rate making purposes for natural gas in the City of Lincoln, Nebraska, shall Grantee claim the right of using as a basis for such determination a wholesale gas rate higher or greater than such wholesale gas rate actually charged to Metropolitan Utilities District of Omaha, Nebraska, for gas supplied from the same pipe line or lines from which Grantee herein receives its supply for the City of Lincoln, Nebraska, and for a general and similar supply of natural gas to the City of Omaha, Nebraska."

Section 2. That Section 7 of Ordinance No. 4626, passed August 29, 1949, as amended by Ordinance No. 6843, passed November 17, 1958, be and it hereby is repealed.

Conrad Sets Second Record For Distance

El Paso, Tex. (AP) — Flying grandfather Max Conrad ended a record 6,911-mile non-stop flight from Casablanca, Morocco, to El Paso Thursday, rested 4 hours and then took off for Los Angeles.

It took him 56 hours and 26 minutes to make the flight in a Piper Comanche with a single 4-cylinder engine.

He set a record for planes weighing between 2,204 and 3,858 pounds.

Conrad, 57, and from Winona, Minn., set down at El Paso's International Airport at 11:27 a.m. He left Casablanca at 3:01 a.m. (EST) Tuesday.

Immediately upon alighting from his plane, Conrad gulped a soda pop he was handed. He had subsisted on 3 vacuum jugs of liquid during his long flight and told reporters that if he'd had a barrel of water aboard he could have consumed it.

In a ground-to-air radio interview just before he landed, Conrad told Ken Dunnagan of radio station KROD in El Paso that thirst was his only problem.

Conrad had taken off from Casablanca with 360 gallons of gasoline aboard his craft. When he landed here, 60 gallons remained—enough for him to have continued on to Los Angeles.

The plane in which he covered parts of two continents and an ocean is the same one in which he set a record for heavier aircraft last year. To make this year's flight, Conrad replaced the Piper Comanche's 6-cylinder engine with a 4-cylinder model to lower the weight by 140 pounds and put it in the lighter class.

His flight in June, 1958, covered 7,668 miles from Casablanca to Los Angeles.

Big Area In Southland Blackened

Forest, Grass Fires Destroy Many Homes

Marshall, Tex. (AP) — Small fires still flickered in east Texas Thursday after vast grass and forest blazes swept over parts of 4 states Wednesday and destroyed almost 40 residences.

Authorities and residents feared other outbreaks at any time which would be fanned by a cold front with strong north winds which moved into the blackened areas.

A heavy dew in east Texas helped control the blazes overnight. Firefighters used backfires, bulldozers, wet sacks and fire trucks in subduing the outbreaks.

Many Still Burning

Texas forestry authorities counted 19 fires still burning in east Texas, many of them not being fought.

A blaze at Hugo, Okla., consumed 2,000 acres of grass before being controlled. Employes of several circuses with winter quarters there helped battle the fires, which burned to within 50 yards of Hugo's Booker T. Washington School. Rural homes were saved by hastily dug fire lanes.

Ninety forest and brush fires burned over more than 5,750 acres in Arkansas, but the State Forestry Commission reported all flames out Thursday. Forester Fred Lang warned, however, that the hazard remained acute because of dry woods and high winds.

Halted Near Gas Wells

Fire burning along a 20-mile front in Louisiana crossed the Texas border, but was stopped 4 miles short of gas wells in the huge Waskom and Blocker oil-gas fields.

One blaze in Arkansas occurred on the Southwest Proving Grounds near Hope. The grounds once were used for testing shells and other explosives and firemen could not move in equipment because of duds.

Homes destroyed, all in Texas, included 7 near Marshall, one near Dallas, 3 near Jefferson, 10 near Texarkana, 8 at Gilmer, and an undetermined number near Waskom, and one at Palestine.

Secretary To Gov. Brooks Finds Job 'No Soft Touch'

MRS. O'CONNOR . . . "working" secretary. (Star Staff Photo.)

By Gene Budig

The person who is private secretary to Nebraska's governor has no "soft touch."

Since coming to Lincoln from McCook with Governor Brooks last January, Mrs. Evelyn O'Connor has been averaging well over 10 hours a day at the office.

Statehouse officials report that when the Brooks administration took office, Mrs. O'Connor and her secretarial staff put in as many as 14 hours a day.

"I honestly don't see how the woman kept going for those first few months," a statehouse news reporter said. "She was here when we came to work and when we went home."

At McCook

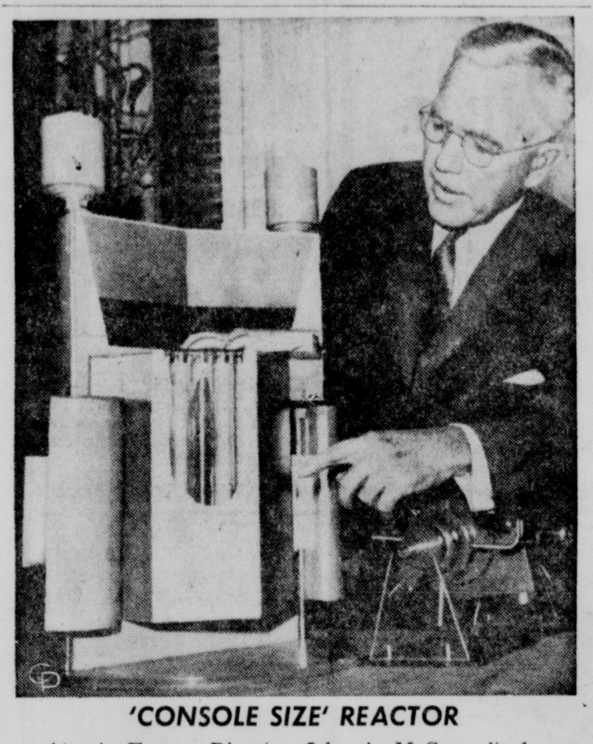
Mrs. O'Connor was a member of Brooks' public school staff at McCook for 10 years. At McCook she was in charge of school accounts and did general secretarial work for the board of education.

"Evelyn is as efficient as she is reliable," Brooks said. Her fellow statehouse associates agree with the governor wholeheartedly.

However, being Brooks' private secretary is only part of her job. She also serves as head receptionist for the governor's office.

Commenting on her present position, Mrs. O'Connor said, "It is much like working with a school system only there is much more to do."

The McCook woman said that "Gov. Brooks is easy to work for and he is extremely patient as well as understanding."



'CONSOLE SIZE' REACTOR

Atomic Energy Director John A. McCone displays a model of what is believed to be the world's smallest atomic power reactor, the size of a 5-gallon can, for the American Rocket Society in Washington. It is called the "Snap II," weighs 220 pounds, contains 6.6 pounds of uranium 235, could keep half a hundred 60-watt bulbs lit for years. "Use of such a device," said McCone, "would make possible long-lived weather satellites, world-wide television communications . . . interplanetary travel."

Writer Accused Of Belting Wife

Los Angeles (AP)—Novelist Thomas Chamales was jailed Thursday and accused of hitting his wife in the face and tossing a milk bottle at her. She is singer Helen O'Connell.

Police also accused him of assaulting the officers who arrested him.

Chamales, 46, author of "Never So Few," is estranged from Miss O'Connell, 39, his wife of 3 years. Last July, after she alleged he beat her, she obtained a court order restraining him from visiting her.

But he dropped by anyway and, she told police: "We quarreled over our problems. He began hitting me in the face. Then he threw a milk bottle that just missed my head."

Police said Chamales fled when they arrived, crashing through a wood fence in the back yard. Officers waited. Soon Chamales crashed back through, headed for the house.

They said he fought them and spat on them when they arrested him.

He was released on bail and ordered to appear in municipal court.

North Loup Work Gets Brooks OK

Gov. Ralph Brooks has voiced approval of the North Loup Division irrigation project on condition that the two power companies operating in the area be paid any damages that might occur.

The governor, in a letter to John Spencer of Denver, regional director of the U.S. Bureau of Reclamation, said "I approve the North Loup Division report" with the reservation that an agreement will be set up to:

—pay the Loup River Public Power District "adequate just compensation" for power interference before construction is started on the project.

—make adequate provision for paying any compensable damages to the North Loup River Public Power and Irrigation District which may result.

John Preston, general manager of the Loup River Public Power District, has contended the district will suffer as a result of lessened power flows at the headgates of its power canal if the irrigation is set up. He said he feels that "just compensation" must be made.

State Water Resources Director Dan S. Jones Jr., approving the project, urged Spencer and the Bureau of Reclamation to explore further possibilities of joint use of facilities which "will result in greater efficiency in operation for both projects."

The estimated total cost of the water reclamation project is approximately $46 million. It is part of the Missouri Basin program authorized by Congress in 1944 and it affects the North Loup River and Loup River valleys from Burwell to Fullerton.

The project will include a dam across the Calamus River just above its confluence with the North Loup. It will irrigate approximately 52,000 acres.

Britain Eyes Independence For Colonies

London (UPI) — Britain is seeking to speed up independence for millions in its fast dwindling colonial empire, authoritative sources disclosed.

The empire, which had a population at the turn of the century of more than 600 million now has been reduced to a population of only 80 million. When Nigeria, Britain's largest African colony, receives its independence next October, the total will be slashed to 40 million.

In line with this slimming down, the British government is considering abolishing the Colonial Office and merging it with the Commonwealth Relations Office into a single department to handle relations with the independent commonwealth nations and the few remaining colonial terrirtories.

Officials To Tour

Iain Macleod, newly named colonial secretary in a government reshuffle a month ago, plans to leave at the beginning of December on a tour of Britain's East African territories of Kenya and Tanganyika. He also will visit Malta.

Prime Minister Harold Macmillan will spend 6 weeks at the beginning of next year visiting Ghana, Nigeria, the Union of South Africa and the Central African Federation of Rhodesia and Nyasaland.

(The British government's main concern is to solve the powder-keg problem of racial relations in the African territories.

The most difficult problem in the government's view is in Kenya, where there are 65,000 whites, 270,000 Arabs and 165,000 Indians in a total population of about 6.5 million.

But the Macmillan government, the sources said, feels the most important area—which could prove the key to the whole racial problem in Africa—is the Central African federation, where there are some 300,000 Europeans and 7.5 million native Africans.

EVERYBODY'S MONEY

Protecting The Structure Of Sound Life Insurance

By Merryle S. Rukeyser

Despite inflation, which downgrades contracts expressed in money, life insurance is still the basic foundation of every man's personal and family financial structure.

Rukeyser

A little foresight can prevent disruption of life insurance structures in times of financial emergency, when the insured makes loans against the accumulated cash reserves behind his policy.

The practical impact of such borrowing is to reduce the amount of the proposed estate by the amount of the loan, if the insured dies before making repayment. In addition, the insured compounds the financial pressures on him by adding to the burden of paying premiums on the policy the additional obligation to pay around 5% interest on the loan.

It's better, of course, to avoid borrowing but, if it is necessary to take out such a loan, the insured should simultaneously make arrangements with the insurance company for additional term insurance coverage for an amount equal to the loan. Then if he dies before fulfilling his objective of repayment, the estate for his survivors is unimpaired.

Such foresight incidentally helps to remove the insured from temptation offered by life insurance "twisters" seemingly to ease his burden by switching from his old policy to a new one.

There is still tremendous under-usage of the "term policy" for specific uses. Term insurance is pure insurance, and entrails no complications incidental to building up savings.

Where there are loans of any type that may be outstanding when the breadwinner dies, it is desirable, in order to avert a family financial catastrophe, to carry term insurance to cover the amount of the indebtedness. An especially suitable use for this type of coverage is in connection with the gradual retirement or amortization of home mortgages. A special type of policy, known as diminishing term, is available to meet this situation. The face amount of the policy declines each year with the reduction of the sum owed on the mortgage. While this type of coverage is available with other insurance companies, Equitable Life Assurance Society insists on coupling it with the funds it lends to homeowners on mortgages. Apart from the purely financial aspects, there is a human and sentimental side to the transaction. The society, looking ahead, didn't want to find itself in the unpopular role of foreclosing against a widow and her orphan children. The coupling of diminishing term insurance with the mortgage contract is intended to provide cash to pay off the mortgage at the time of the death of the breadwinner.

Similarly, group term coverage is spreading to cover the small personal loans of borrowers at banks and also to cover amounts owed on certain types of instalment contracts. Here the lender has taken the initiative in adding insurance coverage for his own protection, so that the prospects of repayment won't be initiated by the premature passing of the borrower. This arrangement is so desirable for the borrower that he ought to shop around, in making commitments, to deal only with those who offer insurance coverage.

Likewise, some of the merchandisers of systematic instalment savings plans, such as mutual funds, provide at an added cost group term coverage. The purpose is to fulfill the original money goal even if the saver fails to live long enough to complete his schedule of payments. Such diminishing term coverage can be bought by the customer independently through life insurance companies.

In an effort to achieve a reasonable amount of certainty in an uncertain world, it is constructive to stop worrying and to cover risks which you can't control, such as premature death, through insurance.

The commissions to salesmen on term policies are low, and such pure insurance tends to be undersold. But term policies are useful for providing against specific hazards, such as dying before the mortgage payments or savings instalments have been completed.

Usually such foresight more than pays for itself in yielding immediate dividends in peace of mind.

Fewer persons would be prospects for the psychiatrist's couch if they would obviate worry by constructive planning.

(Mr. Rukeyser will be pleased to receive inquiries from readers concerning their financial problems. Letters with self-addressed, stamped envelopes should be sent in care of this newspaper. Questions of general interest will be answered in this column.)

WOODFORD — Mrs.

Missing Diplomat's Body Found; Death Apparently Suicide

New York (AP) — Povl Bang-Jensen, former United Nations official who had been missing for 3 days, was found dead of a gunshot wound in a wooded park Thursday. He apparently killed himself, police said.

He reportedly had been despondent over his firing as a senior political officer at the U.N.

Bang-Jensen, 50, a Danish national, was last seen Monday morning when he kissed his American wife goodbye and left for his temporary job at the Manhattan headquarters of CARE, the international relief organization.

His body was discovered in Queens Borough's huge Alley Pond Park, about a mile from his home at Lake Success, Long Island. A .25 caliber automatic was in his right hand, a bullet wound in the right side of his head. The body lay at the side of a bridle path seldom used at this time of the year.

A note addressed to his wife, Helen, begged her forgiveness and said he had been despondent over his U.N. difficulties, police said. It also gave funeral directions.

The body had been in the woods more than 24 hours, according to authorities. It was discovered by a man walking his dog. A large number of police quickly raced to the area, including top brass.

Bang-Jensen drew international attention two years ago when he refused to surrender 81 names of Hungarian refugees who had given secret testimony in an inquiry for the U.N. Committee on Hungary, which was investigating the 1956 Hungarian revolt.

Word Of Caution

Washington (UPI) — A former Senate investigator urged that New York police "make sure" there was no foul play in the death of Povl Bang-Jensen. He said the Danish diplomat was privy to information the Russians did not want revealed.

Robert Morris, who was chief counsel for the Senate Internal Security subcommittee during its investigation of the Hungarian revolt, said Bang-Jensen had "an important message" for the West.

Story Of Methodism

Nashville, Tenn. (AP) — The Methodist church has named an 11-man editorial board, headed by the Rev. Dr. Emory Stevens Bucke of Nashville, to turn out a projected new history of American Methodism.

Westerners Try To Salvage Beets Frozen In Ground

Scottsbluff (AP)—Farmers in the North Platte valley in Nebraska and Wyoming are salvaging about a million dollars worth of sugar beets which were frozen in the ground last week.

This week receiving stations of the Great Western Sugar Co. in Nebraska were getting beets at a steady clip.

There have been no reports on sugar content of the frozen crop, but freezing and thawing tends to lessen quality.

Million View Macy Parade

New York (AP) — More than a million children of all ages —including mothers and fathers—turned out Thursday for Macy's 33rd annual Thanksgiving Day parade.

Police estimated that 1.3 million spectators lined the two-mile route as giant helium-filled balloon figures, marching bands, dancers and stars from the entertainment world filed past in review.

In the line of march up Broadway and Central Park West were former child star Shirley Temple, now 31, and her own 3 children.

Accompanied by her son and two daughters, she sat on a float as "The Story Book Queen" and waved in answer to shouts of "Look, Shirley Temple," and "Hi, Shirley Temple."

Children shrieked in glee as the balloon figures, a gigantic comic turkey, a space man and Popeye floated past under a brilliant blue autumn sky.

Veto Airline Stock Swap, CAB Urged

Washingon (UPI)—The Civil Aeronautics Board has been urged by one of its examiners to veto a stock swap between Pan American World Airways and National Air Lines as contrary to the public interest.

The examiner said the deal had given Pan Am indirect control over National and ultimately might lead to direct control. However, he recommended approval of a related jet leasing arrangement between the two carriers.

Examiner Leslie G. Donahue said CAB approval of the stock swap and a stock purchase option eventually would eliminate competition between National and Pan Am on the Miami-Havana and New York-Havana routes.

Public The Loser

He said this would be contrary to the public interest and a violation of the Clayton Anti-Trust Act.

Pan Am and National signed 3 separate stock and jet aircraft exchange agreements on Sept. 9, 1958. Under a short-term contract National used Pan Am 707 jets in its Northeast-Miami service last winter and is doing so again this winter.

Under a long-term contract, Pan Am would begin borrowing jets from National next May for its summertime peak Trans-ocean traffic. National would use Pan Am jets in winter when its traffic to Florda is heaviest. This long-term agreement would continue until 1970.

Donahue said these arrangements were in the public interest, benefited both carriers and therefore should be approved.

No. 3 Attacked

But he urged the board to disapprove a third agreement giving Pan Am an option to buy up to 250,00 shares of National's common stock.

Donahue said this third agreement, under which each airline has given the other 400,000 shares of its stock, game Pan Am a controlling 25% interest in National

He also said an 8-year restriction on the voting of the stock has the effect of giving Pan Am indirect control now. This control would become direct after the 8 years, Donahue asserted.

He recommended that the board order the two airlines to divest themselves of each other's stock.

Moscow (AP) — Muscovites are better dressed, looking at more television sets and taking more pictures with better cameras than a month ago.

The reason?

The introduction on Oct. 1 of that old capitalist custom —installment buying

Since then, 69 million rubles worth of goods has been purchased on credit in Moscow, and the total is skyrocketing as New Year's approaches

Of the total, just under 26 million rubles were spent on pure wool and silk goods which had been out of reach for most people.

Among other goods sold on credit in October were 21,000 radio-phonographs, 2,600 cameras, 3,600 fur pieces and 2,150 sewing machines.
